SA CRUSH INDIA TO WIN OPENING TEST

India suffered an embarrassing innings and 32 run loss to a far superior South Africa in the opening Test which ended inside three days in Centurion on Thursday. Having scored 245 in the first innings, the Indian batters managed only 131 in 34.1 overs in the second inni-ngs after South Africa managed a handsome 408 in its first essay. CENTRE, ULFA AND ASSAM GOVT TO SIGN PEACE ACCORDS TODAY

Tripartite accord aiming to end decades old insurgency in Assam to be signed in the presence of Union home minister Amit Shah in New Delhi

HARDLINE FACTION WON'T BE PART OF DEAL

The peace accord will take care of long-standing political, economic and social issues, officials said. It will also provide cultural safeguards and land rights to Assam's indigenous people. The hardline faction of the United Liberation Front of Asom (ULFA) led by Paresh Baruah, which has rejected the Centre's olive branch, will not be part of the accords

OPPOSITION CALLS IT ELECTION GIMMICK

- Opposition parties slammed the proposed deal saying it may not bring peace as the Baruah faction is not included. "We suspect it may be just an election gimmick of the BJP," a Congress leader said
- ULFA was formed in 1979 demanding that Assam be made an independent country. It was declared as a banned outfit in 1990

FIRST KISS OF LIFE FOR ALL 8 VETERANS ON DEATH ROW

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

ALL eight naval veterans who were on death row in Qatar, got their first kiss of life on Thursday as a Court of Appeal commuted their sentences. They have now been awarded between three years of imprisonment and over 25 years, sources said.

"All eight naval veterans have been given different terms. The lowest is for Sailor Ragesh, which is three years. For the seven other veterans, their sentences range from 10 years to over 25 years of imprisonment," the source said. The case will now be heard in the Cassation Court, Qatar's highest court of appeal. The Court of Appeal gave its verdict on the fourth day of hearing. The earlier hearings were on November 23, November 30 and December 7.

Thursday's judgment goes into why the court awarded different years of imprisonment for each veteran, but is not yet been made public because of the sensitive nature of the case.

The spouses of all veterans have been in Doha for sometime now, awaiting the hearing. The failing health of the veterans has been a cause of concern as some of them have lost appetite while a few others are completely withdrawn.

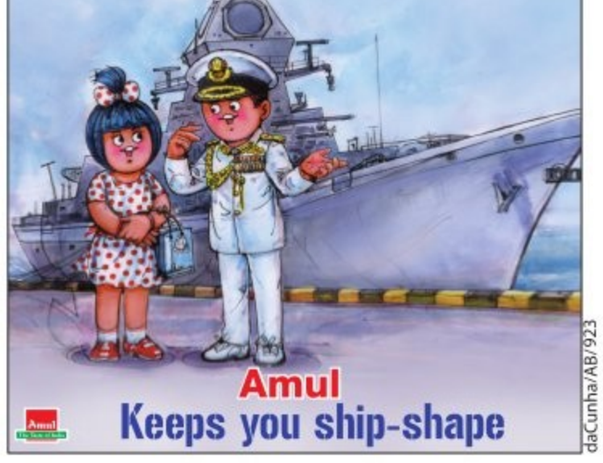
WILL CONTINUE TO PURSUE CASE: GOVT

"We have stood by them since the beginning and we will continue to extend all consular and legal assistance. We will also continue to take up the matter with the Qatari authorities," the Ministry of External Affairs said in a statement after the judgment

With the case shifting to the Cassation Court, the next hearing is expected in a few days. A Court of Cassation is a high-instance court that exists in some judicial systems. Courts of Cassation do not re-examine the facts of a case; they only interpret the law. Vipul, the Indian Ambassador to Qatar, and families of the eight naval veterans were present in the Court of Appeal on Thursday for the hearing. "We have noted the verdict today of the Court of Appeal of Qatar in the Dahra Global case, in which the sentences have been reduced," the External Affairs Ministry.

The verdict was widely welcomed across the political spectrum as also by retired diplomats and security experts. There was a sense of relief and hope that the veterans would be exonerated. On the ground though not much has changed for the veterans. "However, there is renewed hope that the last phase of the legal process, which has just begun, will end with the repatriation of all these eight naval veterans," the source said.

The eight naval veterans under detention in Qatar since August 30, 2022, are Captain Navtej Singh Gill, Captain Saurabh Vashisht, Commander Purnendu Tiwari, Captain Birendra Kumar Verma, Commander Sugunakar Pakala, Commander Sanjeev Gupta, Commander Amit Nagpal and Sailor Ragesh.



Rahul: Nationwide caste census if voted to power

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday reiterated his promise of conducting caste census across the country if the Congress comes in power in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

Addressing a mega rally to mark the 139th foundation day celebrations of the party in Nagpur, Rahul said the OBCs, Dalits and tribals do not have enough representation in many sectors. "Earlier, Prime Minister Narendra Modi would describe himself as an OBC. But after my demand (of caste census), he says there is only one caste, the poor. If there is only one caste, why do you say you are an OBC?" Rahul asked.

"When we come to power, we will carry out caste census and ensure equal representation of all castes. We do not want two Hindustans, one for the poor and another for the rich," Rahul added. He also attacked Modi for not delivering on his promise of two crore jobs to the youth. Instead, the unemployment rate in India is at its highest in the last 40 years, Rahul alleged. "The youth have no work and are therefore wasting 7-8 hours scrolling social media sites. The situation is grim. Only the Opposition's I.N.D.I.A bloc can give them jobs," Rahul said. Citing a conversation with a BJP MP who was earlier with the Congress, Rahul claimed the BJP treats its workers and leaders like slaves. "There is no democracy in BJP. Earlier kings used to give orders. Now top BJP leaders give such orders and everyone has to follow in BJP," he alleged.

Party chief Mallikarjun Kharge promised implementation of the minimum income support programme, NYAY, to empower women and the poor. "Nagpur has two ideologies, one of Dr B R Ambedkar which is progressive and the other of the RSS which is destroying the nation," Kharge said.

CM: Ordinance on Kannada signboards soon

KRV chief arrested

As many as 29 KRV activists, including its chief Narayana Gowda, have been arrested and remanded in judicial custody for reportedly vandalising properties during Wednesday's protest in Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A day after Kannada activists targeted several business establishments in Bengaluru for not following the government directive on using Kannada in signboards, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said the government is not against peaceful protests, but it will not tolerate anyone disturbing peace and harmony.

Addressing reporters after holding a meeting with Home Minister G Parameshwara and officials to review the situation, the CM said Section 17 (6) of the Kannada Language Comprehensive Development Act 2022 will be amended through an ordinance to make it mandatory for all shops and other business establishments to have 60% Kannada in signboards from February 28. The law will be enforced strictly, he said.

Currently, as per the Act, the top half of the signboard must be in Kannada and the rest in other languages. In a circular issued on March 24, 2018, (when Congress was in power), all establishments were directed to have 60% Kannada in signboards. But it was changed in the Kannada Language Comprehensive Development Act 2022, the CM said. "I have directed the Kannada and Culture Department to bring in an amendment to Sec 17 (6) of the Act by issuing an ordinance as the Assembly is not in session," the CM said. P6

Newborn girl found dead with dog bite injuries

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

The body of a newborn baby girl was found with dog bite injuries at Acchatanahalli village in Vemgal police limits on Thursday.

According to police sources, it is suspected that the baby might have been thrown into the bushes near the road early in the morning and stray dogs dragged it onto the road later. Some residents of Acchatanahalli alerted the police after seeing the body. It is also suspected that the newborn might have been killed by its family members as they did not want a female child.

The body has been sent to SNR Hospital. Vemgal police have launched an investigation. They have obtained CCTV footage from Acchatanahalli main road and nearby areas for examination. They have sought information from the local government health centre, private hospitals and the district government hospital on the babies born there on Wednesday.

Colourful serial lights envelope Brigade Road on Thursday, as Bengaluru gets ready to welcome 2024 | ALLEN EGENUSE J

Cameras, watchtowers in place to make New Year's Eve safer in city

Brigade Rd, Commercial St shop owners for strong police presence

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITH the New Year round the corner, popular hubs for the celebrations -- Brigade Road and Commercial Street -- have decked up for the occasion, along with a range of safety and precautionary measures.

Fancy lights, cameras and watchtowers are coming up at the said places for security and effective crowd management, since a lot of people will throng there to bid goodbye to 2023 and welcome 2024. As untoward incidents like the blast on Church Street and molestations have been reported around New Year's Eve in the past, traders and shops associations have taken precautions this time.

Brigade Shops and Establishment Association secretary Suhail Yousuf said, "A letter has been sent to the Central DCP for robust police deployment. From the association, cameras, monitors and watchtowers will be installed. The police have been requested to remove hawkers and street vendors from Brigade Road on December 31, while traffic restrictions will be in force from 6 pm on that day. Only pedestrians will be allowed from the MG Road junction."

Yousuf added that the police have been requested not to allow pedestrians from Rest House Road or Church Street onto Brigade Road, to prevent potential mischief-makers from indulging in anything illegal and then fleeing to crowded areas. The association has also stopped people from sitting on stairs leading to any of the shops and from entering basements of shopping complexes.

Meanwhile, unlike Brigade Road, Commercial Street Association has decided to suspend its operations altogether after 10 pm.

Secretary of Commercial Street Association, Mayank Rohatgi, said that in the past, Brigade Road witnessed certain incidents during New Year's Eve, and to avoid them occurring again, the association has taken this decision.

"Apart from the issue of security, the association also wants to take precautions in the wake of rising Covid-19 infections. All the 70 shops on Commercial Street will shut by 10 pm. Meanwhile, as part of New Year celebrations, the shops within the association have decided to give awaay 10 iPads and 10 smart TVs through a lucky draw and winners will be awarded on January 1," said Rohatgi.

With regard to security measures, he said all the shops have CCTV cameras. Besides, the police has been requested to deploy men on Kamaraj Road and on Commercial Street entrance to send across message to further deter trouble-makers.

POOR INFRASTRUCTURE THROWS UP MANY CHALLENGES IN CITY

MOHAMMED YACOOB & S LALITHA @Bengaluru

NAMMA Bengaluru, which has put Karnataka on the global map through its potential in the IT sector, is struggling to find solutions to some of its own problems. As the years pass by, the city poses new challenges to its administrators.

While the state government heavily banks on revenue generated here, the city is not getting its due attention. Many governments have promised to give the city a makeover. However, the city's fragile infrastructure keeps getting exposed.

It did not take long for the Congress government, which was voted to power in May, to realise that they have to pull up their socks as a young woman lost her life after a car was deluged in the flooded underpass at KR Circle, just a stone's throw from the power centre, Vidhana Soudha. The incident held up a mirror to the city's poor infrastructure.

The 2022 floods due to torrential rain, which prompted the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) to take up a demolition drive to clear storm water drain (SWD) encroachments, has not seen a logical end, as encroachers obtained stay orders and BBMP officials did not take any concrete steps to get the stay vacated. The city continues to see flood-like situations even today.

WHEN CITIZENS LOSE LIVES

The civic agencies' apathy has also taken lives of citizens. While road accidents due to notorious potholes keep repeating, sheer negligence of Bescom claimed the lives of an unsuspecting woman and her nine-month-old toddler in Kadugodi. In another incident, a woman was killed in Wilson Garden in September after she and her daughter were trapped under an electricity pole that came crashing down after a tree fell on it amid heavy rain. There is a dire need for the Palike to address issues related to footpaths, waste management and maintenance of parks and public spaces in good condition.

Moving on to connectivity issues, the RV Road-Bommasandra line via Electronics City, which was to be completed by this year-end, failed to materialise due to the non-despatch of driverless coaches from China. The Centre is yet to approve Phase-3 of Namma Metro, which connects Outer Ring Road as a full circle. Corridor One will run for 32.15km along the west of Outer Ring Road from JP Nagar IVth phase to Kempapura, while Corridor Two will run from Hosahalli to Kadabagere on Magadi Road for 12.5km. There will be intersections with other Metro lines at five stations.

The Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project is inching along. Despite the contractor being selected for the Fourth Corridor of 46.8km from Heelalige to Rajanakunte, the work order has not been given. This is because Railways is yet to hand over land to the project implementing agency, K-RIDE.

To address multiple issues faced by the city and improve its image, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who is also Bengaluru in-charge minister, proposed the 'Brand Bengaluru' concept that prioritizes effective urban planning, sustainable drainage systems, efficient transport systems, smart traffic management, pedestrian-friendly roads, citizen safety and convenience. However, it appears that nothing has materialised yet. To address traffic woes, Shivakumar proposed the Tunnel Road Project to connect North-South and East-West Bengaluru via a 190-km tunnel. Experts, however, have opposed the project, terming it "unscientific".

The Congress government, which was criticising the previous BJP government for not conducting long-pending BBMP elections, seems to be in no mood to hold polls anytime soon, and is delaying the ward reservation list. The elected body would have at least discussed crumbling civic infrastructure and held officials accountable. Bengalureans are hoping that at least now the city will get its due, as it is represented in the cabinet by none other than the Deputy CM himself.

200 flyers of Delhi-B'luru flight suffer 8-hr ordeal

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

OVER 200 IndiGo flyers had a harrowing time as their flight landed in Bengaluru from New Delhi 7.55 hours behind schedule on Thursday.

Even after boarding the flight in New Delhi, they had to remain seated for 90 minutes as the pilot did not arrive, according to the passengers.

Flight 6E 6622 was supposed to take off at 7.10 pm on Wednesday from Delhi and reach Bengaluru at 9.50 pm. Instead, it took off at 2.57 am on Thursday and landed in Bengaluru at 5.45 am.

Vandana Matharoo, an employee of a multinational firm and a resident of Hebbal, arrived by the IndiGo flight along with her two young sons.

Narrating the ordeal they faced, she said, "We received a message a few hours before the departure that the flight would leave by 8.15 pm. However, the boarding did not take place till 8 pm. When a few of us checked at the counter, we were told that a flight would land shortly and we could leave by that. When we checked again at 9.30 pm, we were told that the flight left for Jaipur instead."

She said, "There was just one woman employee at the counter handling at least 100 people. We were repeatedly told that it would start within 20 minutes. Finally, the plane took off at 2.57am."

A spokesperson for IndiGo said, "IndiGo flight 6E 6622 from New Delhi to Bengaluru was delayed on December 27 due to operational reasons. The passengers were informed regarding the delay and were served with refreshments. We regret the inconvenience caused to all our passengers."

Students not happy with 4-year degree, want better amenities in govt schools

ENS @Bengaluru

A recently conducted survey among students in the State showed that 83 per cent do not want the government to continue the four-year degree course implemented under the National Education Policy (NEP 2020) in Karnataka. The NEP rule allows students multiple entry and exit points to finish their higher education.

The survey showed that 97 per cent of students also want the government to establish engineering colleges in all districts of Karnataka.

The survey was conducted by the All India Democratic Students Organisation (AIDSO) for two months and the findings were presented to the 15-member State Education Policy (SEP) Commission for consideration. A total of 23,120 students from nine government universities, 82 government degree colleges, 12 government engineering colleges and 15 government student hostels participated in the study.

Each stakeholder was met personally and opinions collected in written form through a 9-point questionnaire, and 20 per cent of the total collected responses were considered as samples. The survey highlighted that over 4,551 participants opposed the idea of the government clustering schools in the name of low enrolment, and demanded that the authorities set up better infrastructure and facilities.

Around 98.52 per cent surveyed also said that the State government should take full financial responsibility for the management of government schools and colleges and not rely on Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds or donations from students. "Over 20,000 students who participated in the survey agreed that making government institutions financially autonomous and increasing fees would be detrimental to democratic education. The hasty implementation of NEP-2020 in the State has created many problems," the survey report stated.

The survey, which included students, parents and teachers, also found that they were not happy with FDI and foreign universities taking over the education sector.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29th December: One part of the Lunar phase points to changes in energy. While this means that we can all ease off the pressure a little, we don't have to. If you want to push ahead with your pet projects, you just have to put in some extra effort. The end-result might be better than if you just coasted along on a wave of cosmic power.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Some of you are by now feeling the pressures ease, but others have yet to encounter the full force of partners' opposition to their plans. Always bear in mind, though, that friends have your interests very much at heart. And what this means is that you'll be receiving support you don't even know about.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Neptune's presence in your tenth solar house is bringing a degree of inspiration but also a risk that you'll lose touch with reality. Spend your time on imaginative activities and don't get too bogged down in the facts. This week's hard information will be next week's fairy tales.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The demands on your time are many and varied, yet you have the ultimate choice as to how you arrange the day. If social gatherings are planned there's no reason at all why these shouldn't be as enjoyable as expected - even if you are much more intense than usual.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
After all you've been through, you may be pleased to know that your planets are now adopting a classically romantic and inspired formation. Arrange your life to benefit from social opportunities, and you'll soon discover that friendly contacts could usher in professional improvement.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mars is not the only planet inducing a restless frame of mind at the moment, although it is undoubtedly a powerful, unsettling force. Yet, you may now be in urgent need of rest and recuperation, and anyone who genuinely cares for you will give you more space and support.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Although you may not be directly affected, there's a distinct air of romance abroad. At the very least this is an ideal period to take some time off and mix with attractive and civilised people. I am emphasising this now because there's a risk you'll attract those who are angry and aggressive.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Now the week is drawing to a close you may be relieved that you won't have to handle a number of hot topics. Yet, both today and the weekend will bring a number of additional personal factors to your attention. An extra thought - additions to your family are now a very strong possibility.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's little time to relax for most Scorpios, although developments over the next couple of days will bring a welcome dose of fantasy to otherwise humdrum situations. It's time to put your dreams into action, for next week your chance may have passed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It would be misleading to say that everything that has been happening has been to your immediate benefit but, in the long term, almost all that you've been involved in will be advantageous. You're in a fine social phase, by the way, so take some time off and enjoy yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
In general, you should see this as a time to broaden your horizons, take on new responsibilities and experiment with fresh approaches to established problems. Believe in your intuition for a change. I know that's not always easy, but try to trust more in your own talents.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
As the dust settles on a number of controversial issues, your mind may turn to imaginative schemes and proposals. From now until after the weekend, the focus will be on professional ambitions, perhaps in relation to a close friend - and I mean a very close friend!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
If expenditure is on the agenda today, bear in mind that midday is an excellent time to splash out on luxuries and frivolities, but that your normal, careful approach is likely to slip if you're buying machinery or gadgets. Partners may be mistaken about a financial plan, but they may have to find this out for themselves.

Close contacts of symptomatic Covid-19 patients to be tested

'In view of NY celebrations, hosps should prepare isolation wards, ICUs'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka health department on Thursday said along with 'targetted' testing, the close contacts of symptomatic Covid-19 patients will also be tested henceforth as a precautionary measure.

All those in home isolation will be visited by doctors and paramedical staff from primary health centres/urban primary health centres/Namma clinics at least once to assess their medical condition and suggest further steps for treatment, Health Commissioner Randeep said in a fresh circular issued here.

The patients being treated in the ICUs will be monitored through Tele ICU from the State headquarters as how it was done during earlier Covid-19 waves. In view of the New Year celebrations, all public hospitals should gear up to establish dedicated Covid-19 isolation wards, including some ICUs, to admit and treat the affected people, Randeep said.

He directed the district death audit committees to audit Covid-19 deaths regularly and send them to the State Death Audit Committee which will submit a report with recommendations from time to time to the health commissioner. The circular directed government and private healthcare facilities and diagnostic centres not to use CT thorax scan to screen patients. Randeep said a separate directive will be issued to provide flu vaccines to all doctors and paramedical and support staff in public hospitals.

In view of the detection of Covid-19 new variant, JN.1, in Bengaluru, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Thursday said directions have been issued to officials to ensure that Covid-19 guidelines are implemented strictly and reiterated on following Covid-19 Appropriate Behaviour (CAB) during New Year celebrations. He said the new Covid-19 variant has the potential to spread fast and infect those with comorbidities which may increase the number of hospitalisation cases.

JN.1 VARIANT DETECTED IN PATIENT IN JAYADEVA, NO REASON TO PANIC: DOC

Bengaluru: Another case of the new Covid-19 variant JN.1 has been confirmed in an in-patient who got admitted to Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research in Bengaluru. Meanwhile, in the bulletin issued by the Health Department, Karnataka reported 158 new Covid-19 cases on Thursday with the number of tests reaching a new high of 8,350. There were no deaths reported on Thursday. Speaking to TNIE, Dr CN Manjunath, director, Jayadeva, said, "As Karnataka has ramped up testing, the number of cases is obviously expected to go up. Also, it is no surprise that we have found a patient with the new variant JN.1. The patient had come for a heart surgery. As per the protocol, we tested the patient before surgery for Covid-19 and he has tested positive and is found to have the new variant JN.1. This should not lead to panic among the other patients nor the people of the city, as we have taken all necessary precautionary measures," he added. Health Commissioner Randeep said the detection of JN.1 in the patient is no cause for worry as Covid-19 protocol is maintained while treating patients.

Now, drug tests for drivers involved in accidents, drag races: Traffic police

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU Traffic Police (BTP) have cracked the whip on drugged driving. Until now, errant riders and drivers were checked and booked for drunk driving. The BTP is now testing those performing wheelies, drag races and involved in road accidents for drug abuse, besides alcohol.

Joint Commissioner, Police (Traffic), MN Anuchet told TNIE that while "blood tests after road accidents are routine to rule out alcohol in the blood of the errant rider/driver, now, for every road accident and those indulging in wheelies and drag races will have to undergo drug tests to rule out the influence of drugs. We now conduct blood alcohol tests in both fatal and non-fatal cases. Previously, this was done only in fatal cases. Now, we have added testing for drugs".

Drugged driving poses a grave risk to the driver and those on the road because of impaired judgment and lack of ability to respond. A person high on marijuana has impaired judgment of time and distance, decreased coordination, difficulty in lane weaving and slow reaction time. Those under the influence of cocaine or methamphetamine can turn aggressive and reckless when driving, and those on prescription medicines, including benzodiazepines (class of medicines taken for anxiety, other mental health conditions and seizures) and opioids, can experience drowsiness, dizziness and impaired cognitive functioning such as thinking and judgment. Drugged driving can lead to vehicle crashes and loss of lives.

> We conduct blood alcohol tests in both fatal and non-fatal cases. Now, we have added testing for drugs
> - MN Anuchet, Joint Commissioner, Police (Traffic)

In the past five months, the BTP had three fatal and five non-fatal accident cases where the accused was found to have Blood Alcohol Content (BAC) more than the legal limit. "In the fatal cases, we have converted the cases from accident to culpable homicide not amounting to murder, under Section 304 Indian Penal Code (IPC)," said Anuchet.

Punishment under Section 304 IPC is imprisonment up to 10 years, with fine. Those involved in fatal accidents and test negative for alcohol are booked under Section 304A IPC for negligence causing death. Punishment can be two years, with or without fine. Those involved in non-fatal accidents and test positive for drugs will be booked under the NDPS Act along with sections of the IPC.

Earlier this month, in a wheelie case in Kamakshipalya traffic police station, an accused was found positive for consumption of cannabis (ganja) and was arrested under the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act. Wheelie riders and errant riders/drivers involved in road/traffic accidents have to undergo drug tests at government hospitals.

Police have come down heavily against the drug menace. A fortnight ago, the Central Crime Branch arrested a Nigerian national and seized contraband drugs worth over Rs 21 crore. DG&IGP Alok Mohan has instructed all unit officers to conduct drug awareness programmes in schools and colleges across the state.

Attacked for 2nd consecutive day by owner's family, tenant files FIR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

For the second consecutive day, there was high drama and violence in the residence of realtor P Kumar at Krishna Reddy Layout in Banaswadi, who are tenants at the said residence owned by a NRI based in the US. The US-based owner's sister L Shanthamma and her husband along with a few goons had allegedly attacked Kumar and his youngest son. They also sent his aged parents outside the house on Thursday evening. The family was attacked on Wednesday as well.

Kumar's family members visited Ramamurthynagar police station late in the evening to file an FIR. On the advice of his lawyer, Kumar is refusing to vacate the house until the advance amount of Rs 2.5 lakh he had paid, is returned to him.

Kumar told TNIE, "My sister who has come down today to support us, and my 85-year-old mother who was assaulted yesterday, have gone to the police station to file an FIR. Today the goons ganged up and hit me and my youngest son. He is bleeding." A sub inspector who came down to the spot advised Kumar to file a complaint.

"Shanthamma and those accompanying her, got inside the house and locked it from inside so that the family cannot enter," he added. They need a court order to enter someone's house like this. "They are just barging into our house, throwing us outside and locking it from inside. This is completely illegal," Kumar complained.

The furnitures and other items which were taken back inside by Kumar, after the previous day's events, were kept outside the house by the goons, again on Thursday.

A few of the detained workers were kept at the Police Driving and Maintenance School in Yelahanka where arguments broke out between them and the police personnel to release them.

After 9 pm on Wednesday, the police released several members, but kept Narayana Gowda and his followers in custody. Around 1 am, Gowda and his associates were taken for the mandatory medical checkup at the Yelahanka Government Hospital. Some of the members, who were waiting for the release of Gowda, reportedly pelted stones at the BMTC bus that was ferrying the arrested men to the hospital. A police constable is said to have sustained injuries in the stone pelting.

The accused have been booked for assault or criminal force to deter public servants from discharge of his duty (IPC 353), disobedience to order duly promulgated by public servant (IPC 188) and wrongful restraint (IPC 341) along with other sections of the IPC. Further investigations are on.

'Govt won't sit idle if activists take law into their hands'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN the backdrop of Kannada activists targeting business establishments in Bengaluru for not implementing the government directions on Kannada signboards, Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar on Thursday said he supports their cause, but will not accept them taking law into their own hands.

"It is the responsibility of all of us to protect our language. I have a lot of respect for Kannada activists. But the government won't tolerate if they the take the law into their hands," Shivakumar told reporters.

The DyCM said the government will not tolerate anyone damaging public property in the name of their agitation. Kannada activists should communicate the message that 60% of signboards must be in Kannada, but there is a limit to it. This affects the reputation of Karnataka, he said.

Shivakumar said he has spoken to the police commissioner in favour of KRV president Narayana Gowda when someone had lodged a complaint against him. "I will like to tell Narayana Gowda that he can't take the law into his hands. We are all Kannadigas and our government is also committed to this cause. The chief minister has given clear instruction to use Kannada in government documents. Kannada activists have the right to protest peacefully, but not violently," he said.

On Gowda's threat that he will teach a lesson to the Congress in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, the DyCM said they won't say that there was no support from Kannada activists in the party's victory. But this does not give them licence to do whatever they want. "Businesses came here and invested money and they can't be threatened like this," Shivakumar said.

He said the government will issue notices to businesses that do not comply with the government's directions. The government is committed to protecting the interest of businesses in Karnataka, but it is also important that they comply with the directions, he added.

Notification on signboard law will be issued soon, says CM

"WE have now decided that it should be 60% Kannada and 40% in other languages. I have directed the Kannada and Culture Department to bring in an amendment to Section 17 (6) of the Act by issuing an ordinance as the Legislative Assembly is not in session," Siddaramaiah said.

As per Section 17 (8) of the Act, a prescribed percentage of content in all boards displaying advertisements and notices in the state should be in Kannada. The classification of advertisements and the percentage of advertisement content to be displayed in Kannada will be prescribed by the state government. This will also be implemented, the CM said.

Immediate action will be taken to issue a notification of this Act and to frame rules, he added.

Siddaramaiah said the government is not opposed to peaceful protests and it believes in democracy and the Constitution. "I want to make it clear that the government will not tolerate anyone who goes against the law of the land. No one should take the law into their own hands. It is the responsibility of the government to maintain law and order," he said.

On Thursday, members of Kannada Rakshana Vedike staged demonstrations at several places in the state against the arrest of Kannada activists.

DVS to relook retirement, keeps options open

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a turn of events in the BJP, former Union minister and Bengaluru North Lok Sabha member D V Sadananda Gowda, who recently declared his retirement from electoral politics, sprang a surprise that he would reconsider his stance. He claimed that leaders of his constituency were pressuring him to contest the 2024 polls.

"Leaders and workers have been exerting pressure on me though I have decided to pave the way for a new generation of leaders. I have no opposition from any of the leaders in the eight assembly constituencies under my LS seat. Our senior leaders had called me on Wednesday and asked me to contest again. Let us see how things pan out," he told reporters on Thursday, a few minutes before attending a special meeting convened by BJP state chief B Y Vijayendra. He also said that former ministers Byrati Basavaraj and S T Somashekar — who has distanced himself from the BJP — have also been insisting that he contest again.

On Wednesday, former CM Basavaraj Bommai, LoP R Ashoka and former minister Dr C N Ashwathnarayana had called on Gowda to pacify him, as he was reportedly peeved that the high command is not taking state leaders into confidence while taking key decisions. "Sadananda Gowda had announced his retirement. We met him to insist he reconsiders his decision on contesting polls, or else respects the party's stand," Ashwathnarayana told reporters on Thursday.

Sources said it was a move to checkmate former BJP national general secretary CT Ravi, whom the party high command wants to contest from Bengaluru North. "The party will decide what I should become as I demanded very little from the party. Baradu bappadu, bappadutappadu (whatever doesn't come my way will not come, and whatever comes can never be stopped)," Ravi said, in reply to whether he would contest from Bengaluru North.

He denied that Ashwathnarayana and Ashoka were trying to stop him from entering Bengaluru politics. "Ashwathnarayana is my relative and Ashoka is my brother, and I get along well with everyone. I will keep it up in future as well," he maintained.

According to a source, former CM B S Yediyurappa and BJP state chief B Y Vijayendra want BJP defeated candidate from Byatarayanapura assembly constituency H C Thammesh Gowda to be the party's Bengaluru North LS candidate.

Vijayendra holds meet with key BJP leaders; Yatnal, Somanna no show

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STARTING the preparations for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, newly appointed Karnataka BJP president BY Vijayendra on Thursday held a meeting with close to 25 key state party leaders.

With most of the seniors, including his father and former CM B S Yediyurappa, former CMs D V Sadananda Gowda and Basavaraj Bommai, former ministers KS Eshwarappa and CT Ravi present, Vijayendra used the meeting to send out a message to the party's rank and file that he has the backing of the seniors.

Vijayapura City MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal and former minister V Somanna were not present in the meeting. While Yatnal is a critic of Yediyurappa and Vijayendra, Somanna is sulking over the appointment of Vijayendra as state party chief. Yatnal had recently accused the BJP regime led by Yediyurappa of indulging in scams during the peak of the Covid-19 pandemic.

When reporters sought his reaction to Yatnal attacking Yediyurappa over alleged scams during the peak of Covid-19 pandemic, Eshwarappa turned red. According to sources, Eshwarappa had suggested in the meeting that high command should direct Yatnal not to damage the party anymore.

"The BJP-JDS combine should win all the LS seats in Karnataka. It has been decided to fight against the failures of the Congress State Government under the leadership of Vijayendra," Eshwarappa said after the meeting.

Former minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said that the issue of Yatnal was also discussed and it was decided to get the instructions from the high command to tell him to not to issue statements that could damage the party. "But we have to take everyone into confidence as we have to win all 28 LS seats," the former minister said.

Ravi said that the strategy to win all the LS seats in the state in coordination with JDS was discussed. Discussions were also held regarding the forthcoming elections to six MLC seats, including two graduate constituencies and four constituencies for teachers. "Our aim is to organise the BJP to win all 28 LS seats to avenge the defeat in the Assembly polls," he said.

Vijayendra sought the guidance of the seniors to strengthen the party. He hailed the contributions of Yediyurappa, Sadananda Gowda, Eshwarappa, CT Ravi, Basavaraja Bommai and others which made the BJP grow in the state.

"All we can see is the massive building of the BJP. However, the foundation of the building is not visible to us. I have been given this responsibility by the seniors who have laid a solid foundation for BJP. This responsibility rests on my shoulders with the blessings of the elders of the party at the national level," Vijayendra said.

Trial to continue in cases where probe done

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka expressed anguish over withdrawal of an order passed by the State government in 2023 to take back the inquiry entrusted by the State government in 2014 to the Karnataka Lokayukta, into alleged multi-crore irregularities in implementing the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGA) across the State from 2007 to 2014.

Making clear that withdrawal of the order will not be applicable to cases in which the Lokayukta has already completed a probe and filed a chargesheet under the Prevention of Corruption Act and trial is on, Justice M Nagaprasanna clarified that the withdrawal order will apply only to cases pending investigation.

What is granted is not money belonging to officers, it is public money. Therefore, in cases where trial is on, it cannot be disturbed

Karnataka High Court

The Congress-led government had passed the order dated September 9, 2014, entrusting the inquiry to the Lokayukta to unearth irregularities in implementation of the scheme during the BJP regime from

MGNREGA SCAM

2007 to 2014, under Section 7 (2A) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act. This was after the Comptroller and Auditor General pointed out some irregularities in the report. Interestingly, the BJP government, during its fag end on March 28, 2023 – more than eight years after the probe was ordered -- withdrew the earlier order by the Congress government.

"Any other interpretation would be putting a premium on the case of the state, which in one breath projects hundreds of crores to be the misappropriated amount and therefore, investigation would be required against public servants, and in the other breath, the orders that are passed earlier for conduct of investigation are blissfully withdrawn..." the court said.

Fake bills are generated, persons who have never worked have been granted money. What is granted is not money belonging to officers, it is public money. Therefore, in cases where trial is on, it cannot be disturbed. In cases where investigation is still pending in terms of the government order, they would cease forthwith, the court said. The court passed the order while partly allowing the petition filed by Mallayya Koravannavar, assistant director of agriculture, from Gadag.

Though court quashed the sanction order dated May 5, 2022, passed by the Commissioner of Agriculture to prosecute the petitioner for his alleged involvement in the scam, as he was not the appointing authority, the court granted liberty to the state government to accord sanction to prosecute the petitioner.

PM should look into pressing issues of Christians, says Archbishop

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THANKING Prime Minister Narendra Modi for hosting Christmas celebrations at his residence in New Delhi, Bengaluru Archbishop Dr Peter Machado suggested that the PM should also look into many pressing issues of the Christian community.

In a letter to the PM, Dr Machado on Thursday said, "Christmas 2023 was special for Christians in India as PM Modi invited representatives of Christians in New Delhi to his own house on Christmas Day, 25th December, 2023. To take positively forward Modiji's Christmas message of peace and goodwill, it would be an excellent move on his part to address the concerns of the Christian community by taking into confidence Cardinals, Bishops, Priests and Religious and Lay leaders of the community. Instances of hate speeches against Christians, attacks on churches and institutions, promulgation of anti-conversion laws in more and more states has led to deprivation and usurpation of the constitutional rights of Christians, which can be best handled by the Prime Minister's Office with timely interventions. We all look up to the Prime Minister to give a soothing touch to the burning problem of Manipur, which may be an ethnic issue, but has left deep scars on the Christian community..."

He also suggested that Modi resolve the Dalit Christian reservation issue by granting equal status to all Dalits, be they Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs or Christians.

In his letter he said, "As PM Modiji mentioned in his Christmas message, the Christian community is working, through dedicated and selfless service, towards creating a society where there is justice for all and for an inclusive society... The PM spoke of the Christian community in a very complimentary, positive and favourable manner. He also praised the community for its contributions to the freedom movement in the past, and the role it plays today with its active participation in social service activities, and also in education and health fields..."

Obtain FC for buses from RTOs every year, HC tells KSRTC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka directed that the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) have to obtain fitness certificate every year from the concerned Regional Transport Officers (RTO) to ensure safety of passengers by avoiding accidents due to poor condition of buses. "The RTO authorites should not have any casual approach in inspecting and certifying fitness of the buses to ply on the road," the court said while underlining the safety of passengers.

This is one among the series of directives issued by Justice Ramachandra D Huddar while commuting the sentence of Satish, a KSRTC driver for causing accident resulting in death of two students at Ankola of Uttara Kannada District in 2006, to six months from one year simple imprisonment imposed by a trial court.

The court also directed the KSRTC's mechanical department to certify about the fitness of the buses "fit for road" and such buses are to be permitted to ply only after issuance of the certificate. It said that there shall be periodical mechanical examination and repair of the buses. As per the rules framed by the KSRTC, on completion of particular running of km and such buses are bound to be scrapped and such scrapped buses should not be permitted to be used for any scheduled routes, the HC said.

The directives were issued in view of the statement given by the accused driver that the traffic controller compels the drivers to use buses which are not fit. The court noted that the offending bus had already run more than 10 lakh km and it was not having ignition starter, horn and brakes. The condition of the bus which is brought on record is quite alarming, the court added.

QUESTION OF BALANCE HANGS OVER CEC & EC SELECTION PANEL

PARLIAMENT passed the Chief Election Commissioner and Other Election Commissioners (Appointment, Conditions of Service and Term of Office) Bill in the recently concluded winter session. The bill states that the chief election commissioner (CEC) and two election commissioners (ECs) would henceforth be appointed by a committee comprising the prime minister, the leader of opposition and a Union Cabinet minister. The bill was necessitated after a five-judge Supreme Court bench held earlier this year that the appointment of the CEC and ECs by exclusively the executive branch was unconstitutional. The court put in place an interim mechanism in the form of an appointment committee comprising the PM, the leader of opposition and the chief justice of India (CJI). The court said this interim committee would make the appointments till parliament enacted a law on the subject. The government moved swiftly and brought in the bill which replaced the CJI with a Cabinet minister. The 2-1 majority for the government on the selection committee effectively brings back control of the executive over CEC and EC appointments.

The matter had reached the Supreme Court when petitioners asked the court to interpret Article 324(2) of the Constitution, which governs CEC and EC appointments. The article states: "The Election Commission shall consist of the chief election commissioner and such number of other election commissioners, if any, as the president may from time to time fix and the appointment of the chief election commissioner and other election commissioners shall, subject to the provisions of any law made in that behalf by parliament, be made by the president."

While hearing the case, the court opined that the power given to the president to appoint the CEC and ECs was a temporary arrangement until parliament made a law. The court also opined that the law should maintain the independence of the Election Commission. It said that the Constituent Assembly debates on the subject made it clear that the framers had wanted the commission to be free of government influence. It was with this aim that the court had included the CJI on the selection panel. The new law falls short on the issue of maintaining the independence of the Election Commission.

BRING BACK DECORUM IN KERALA POLITICS

AMONG many things, 2023 will be remembered in Kerala as the year the state's politics hit an all-time low. It was the year when Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan came down from being a powerful administrator to a mere party leader. It was also a year when the CPM and its feeder organisations forgot that they were the ruling party and were expected to behave responsibly. Instead, they took to violence to assert supremacy, which was quite unbecoming for a ruling front. It was also the year when the opposition Congress party exposed its internal weakness like never before when its top leaders—KPCC president K Sudhakaran and leader of opposition V D Satheeshan—fought publicly for a microphone and made themselves and their party a laughing stock. It was also the year the Youth Congress state unit got mired in a fake ID case, putting a question mark on the credibility of the party's new-generation leaders. The state BJP unit avoided such public impropriety, but its most popular leader, actor-turned-politician Suresh Gopi, got caught in a controversy for allegedly misbehaving with a woman journalist.

It was also a year when Governor Arif Mohammed Khan dived into state politics and locked horns with the state government on all possible occasions. The state government finally had to approach the Supreme Court against Khan as he sat on bills—even ones passed by the previous government. It was the year the relationship between the Union government and the state government hit an all-time low. Sparring over central allocations almost became a norm, with state and Union ministers accusing each other on fund distribution. While the chief minister and other ministers blamed the Union government for the state's abysmal financial condition, Union ministers including Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman insisted that if there were any delay, it was because the state had not submitted proper paperwork. Regardless of who is correct on this, the fact is that it is federalism that took a hit.

The coming year is an election year. As we know, it is a time when tempers run high and politics falls low. As 2023 is coming to an end, one can only hope against hope that the basic decorum and integrity expected of politicians will be protected by all involved. A deeply political state like Kerala deserves that.

QUICK TAKE

CHECK ILLEGAL EMIGRATION

THE government is investigating how 303 Indians ended up on a chartered flight to Nicaragua that was grounded en route in France last week. Several of those aboard were from Gujarat and Punjab. Earlier this year, the US said that almost a lakh Indians had been caught trying to illegally cross over into the country; the two biggest origin states were the same. The police are trying to nab the traffickers who facilitated the recent travel. But this is an old problem that needs a broader solution. Apart from cracking down on traffickers, the government should address the desperation that makes thousands flee the two states at so much risk.

Central banker Jerome Powell's sudden turn on interest rates has raised hopes for the global economy next year. But the post-pandemic macro path isn't straightforward

POWELL'S PIVOT PITCHES INTO 2024 HEADWINDS

FINANCIAL markets resemble toddlers—self-absorbed, focused on instant gratification, prone to tantrums and easily distracted. Both of them love comforting narratives, especially fairy tales with happy endings, no matter how farfetched. Analysts and commentators today are enraptured by the 'pivot'—significant cuts in official interest rates. International markets have factored in much lower US rates in 2024 and long-term government bond yields have fallen, in anticipation, by nearly 1 percent.

Amusingly, the new narrative reflects a marked shift from the 'pause' (stopping rate increases), the 'skip' (temporary delays in rate rises), and 'higher for longer' (persistence of higher rates) memes that have dominated 2023. There are reasons for scepticism.

First, the change is based on recent comments by US Federal Reserve chair Jerome Powell. The faith is touching given that central bankers failed to forecast the current surge in prices, branded it 'temporary' and confessed that they did not really understand inflation. In any case, interpretation of a policy maker's gnomic pronouncements is problematic. As that paragon of central-bank-speak, Alan Greenspan, told a US Senate committee in 1987: "If I seem unduly clear to you, you must have misunderstood what I said." Moreover, other members of the US Fed as well as the Bank of England and the European Central Bank have been more circumspect about loosening monetary policy.

Second, global inflation, which would need to fall to allow rate cuts, remains well above the 2-3 percent targets commonly accepted. Recent falls are driven primarily by falls in volatile energy and food prices, which may not continue. While some goods prices remain weak, primarily due to industrial overcapacity in China, rise in wages (note the various labour settlements in advanced economies) are yet to flow through into services costs, which make up 60-70 percent of economic activity.

Inflation may persist at high levels for much longer than expected. There are structural factors. Housing makes up a large portion of measures—generally 20-30 percent—and continued price rises and higher mortgages costs as rate rises flow through will affect this component.

Demand remains high. Strong labour markets and the pandemic savings build-up, which has been underestimated, underpins consumption. The extraordinary pandemic fiscal stimulus—in the US, it totalled around 25 percent of GDP—and continuing government initiatives on infrastructure and the energy transition will boost spending.

Major concerns remain on the supply side. Labour and skills shortages, in part driven by aging populations and retirements during the pandemic, are likely. Raw materials prices, such as for basic construction materials, have risen. Emerging shortages in commodities, especially those needed for new energy sources such as copper and nickel will aggravate pressures. Lack of investment in traditional energy sources, under pressure from activist investors, now constrains supply.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Geopolitical factors are relevant. Ongoing conflicts and ramped up defence spending add to demand, both for labour and materials. But longer-term factors are more concerning. Glib talk of new 'cold wars' notwithstanding, the global economic structure is shifting. Great power competition between the US and China will affect supply chains. Sanctions and trade restrictions are accelerating, especially in the area of semi-conductors and technology. Both likely candidates in the 2024 US election—President Biden and former President Trump—are protectionists rather than free-traders. Europe, whose manufacturing sector is struggling, may impose tariffs on Chinese exports of items like electric vehicles.

The shift to greater self-sufficiency—either through onshoring, relocating suppliers or creating alternatives—and increasing inventory levels decreases efficiency, as economies of scale and scope diminish. Restricting agricultural exports to ensure national food security will grow. This will push up costs of many items.

The effects of climate change are complex. Investment in new energy infrastructure and sources exacerbates demand and material and skill shortages. Extreme weather events such as droughts, storms and floods will disrupt logistics. Low water levels are affecting transport links in the Panama Canal as well as the Rhine.

Markets are generally poor at incorporating geopolitical risks. The risk of disruptions to energy supplies is evident as attacks on tankers around the B b al-Mandab, which appropriately means the Gate of Tears, disrupt traffic. With over 50 national elections in 2024, an abnormally high number, the risk of electoral surprises and unexpected policy shifts should not be ignored.

One underestimated consequence is the increasing insurance costs and effects on insurability of certain activities.

Overall, the identified factors may not be consistent with easing price pressures. There is also a basic misunderstanding. Inflation measures change and prices may remain at elevated levels. Without inflation falling back within target bands, central banks will find it difficult to justify rate cuts.

Third, policymakers are constrained by asset prices. Expectations of rate cuts are fuelling rises in already-high stock and property prices, increasing the risk of a financial crash. Given increased public disquiet about housing affordability in many countries and high stock market favouring the wealthy, there is increased sensitivity to the effects of monetary policy on inequality.

Finally, current interest rates are hardly high by historical standards. The recent rate rises can be seen as a long overdue normalisation from the emergency setting after the 2008 global financial crisis and the 2020 pandemic.

The contra case is simple. Higher rates have done their job and now they risk a dramatic deceleration. A recession would expose the fragilities of an over-indebted world through unemployment, a collapse in earnings, corporate bankruptcies (now rising globally) and asset price falls. Another version of this argument is that the current rates, if sustained, would make high debt levels unsustainable, including for governments. The US's public debt servicing costs were 16 percent of its tax revenues in November 2023 and are expected to increase.

The problem with these counter arguments is that weakness in the real and financial economies, with its implications for the supply of the economy's lifeblood—cheap credit—does not support the high asset prices reliant on assumed rate cuts.

In real life as in the markets, there are few fairy tales and fewer happy endings. Most comfortable narratives are short-lived and end up in pain. It will be interesting to see whether the pivot fable proves to be different.

SUSPENSION SAGA SULLIES TEMPLE OF DEMOCRACY

THAMIZHACHI THANGAPANDIAN

Member of Lok Sabha and Standing Committee on IT & Communications

THE 2023 winter session will go down in history for various reasons. It started with a member of parliament demanding why their questions of national importance were disallowed during the Question Hour, followed by the expulsion of Trinamool Congress leader Mahua Moitra from the Lok Sabha, and then a parliamentary breach by four people who released a coloured gas in the Lok Sabha chamber. The session ended with the suspension of more than 140 members in the two Houses of parliament over a few days. Somehow all of these incidents are related.

The recent suspensions have ignited yet another debate on our democratic institutions and the values we espouse as a parliamentary democracy. The mass suspension from both the Houses on December 13 was triggered by the serious security breach on the anniversary of the 2001 parliament attack, and members asking for a statement on it. But the suspensions continued till the end of the session.

Security breaches are a serious issue, especially if it concerns the parliament of India. But suspending members en masse? This sounds like a case of fixing a leaky tap with a hammer. We, the members of parliament, are not just raising eyebrows at the events that unfolded—we are raising the demand for accountability for this unprecedented series of events.

While parliamentary suspensions are not new, a mass suspension of such a magnitude has never been witnessed in history. On March 15, 1989, 63 Lok Sabha members were suspended for a week after protesting the assassination of former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. However, these recent suspensions surpass the previous instances in terms of scale and the potential consequences it had on parliamentary proceedings.

To put this in perspective, here is the magnitude of suspensions—the Janata Dal (United) party's eight Lok Sabha and two Rajya Sabha members, the Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam's 16 Lok Sabha members and eight Rajya Sabha members, 13 Lok Sabha members and eight Rajya Sabha members of the Trinamool Congress, the largest opposition party, the Indian National Congress's 40 Lok Sabha members and 18 Rajya Sabha members.

The suspension of so many members of opposition parties, including regional ones, makes the proceedings resemble a political seesaw. Instead of finding an equitable balance, we find that the proceedings were predominantly in the hands of the majority party. The temple of democracy risked being handed to a solo performer, leaving us all to wonder if it's truly a level playing field for every member of parliament.

The session witnessed the tabling of several crucial bills, including the Telecommunications Bill, Jammu and Kashmir Reservation (Amendment) Bill, Bharatiya Nyaya (Second) Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha (Second) Sanhita and Bharatiya Sakshya (Second) Bill. The way these bills were passed while so many opposition MPs were suspended highlights a disregard for India's diverse regional perspectives. This appears to be more of a strategic event to stifle the opposition and expedite legislative proceedings, completely sidelining the voices of regional and opposition parties.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

Benjamin Disraeli said, "No government can long be secure without a formidable opposition." But this winter session of parliament saw an unprecedented mass suspension of members and the passage of crucial bills without fair debate. Can a democracy—especially a federal one such as ours—thrive without robust representation?

This unprecedented saga has left us questioning the essence of democracy in the country. Prominent national and regional political parties such as the Janata Dal (United), DMK, Nationalist Congress Party, Trinamool Congress, and Indian National Congress saw substantial parts of their representatives suspended. Thus the seesaw appears to be one-sided, with only the saffron party and their allies in the proceedings. The disregard for a diversity of regional perspectives questions the fair and inclusive nature of our democratic process. The events call for a reassessment of the balance between parliamentary democracy and the right of elected representatives to voice their dissent.

By the end of the session, the few opposition parties that remained in the House to discuss the bills included the Shiromani Akali Dal, Telugu Desam and All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM). Even when the members of these parties spoke against some of the bills, the Speaker of the House could be heard saying that "objectionable parts will be expunged from the official records".

This was seen in the case of AIMIM leader Asaduddin Owaisi. While discussing the three criminal bills, hateful words were hurled at him by some members belonging to the Bharatiya Janata Party. The same day, when Shiromani Akali Dal member Harsimrat Kaur Badal was talking about one of the bills and discussing the implications of the police atrocities committed on the people of Punjab, she was advised to restrict her speech only to the bill.

Outside parliament, opposition members stood with placards and signs. We pleaded for the revocation of the suspensions so that we could represent our states and communities. Our demands were simple—a discussion of the December 13 attack or a statement from the home minister. We stood there asking, "More than 140 members are suspended, is this the mother of democracy?"

The whole episode brought to mind the words of 19th-century British politician Benjamin Disraeli: "No government can long be secure without a formidable opposition."

Cong, allies in fix as temple politics peaks

SP chief Akhilesh Yadav, JMM's Hemant Soren unsure of attending Ayodhya ceremony while Didi lashes out at BJP

PREETHA NAIR, NAMITA BAJPAI & MUKESH RANJAN
@New Delhi/Lucknow/Ranchi

THE Congress found itself in a sticky situation on Thursday with some of its state units and allies upping the ante over attending the consecration ceremony of Ram temple in Ayodhya on January 22. Though three of its top leaders – Sonia Gandhi, Mallikarjun Kharge, and Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury – have received invitation from Nripendra Misra, chairman of the Ayodhya Ram Temple Committee, the party is yet to pronounce its stand on the issue.

The confusion has enveloped some INDIA bloc partners with Samajwadi Party chief remaining ambiguous in his stance. "We belong to the legacy where temples are visited only if God summons. If Bhagwan calls, I will go," he said while interacting with media on the sidelines of a party event at SP headquarters here on Thursday.

"I leave the house after having darshan. While going down the stairs, I take darshan of God, as I step out of the gates, I take darshan of God every time.

Now, you tell me which God I should go to for darshan?" he said, replying to a question over his participation in the consecration ceremony.

The under-construction Ram temple at Ayodhya in Uttar Pradesh on Tuesday | PTI

Earlier, BJP MP Subrata Pathak demanded a ban on the entry of SP leaders in the Ayodhya Ram temple as "they were instrumental in opening fire on the Kar sevaks."

In Ranchi, JMM executive president Hemant Soren said he would definitely attend the inaugural ceremony, if invited. "So far I have not received any invitation," said the CM. "I have been going to temples, mosques, gurdwara and churches ...I have no problem in going there", he said.

In Delhi, when asked if the senior leaders will attend the temple event, Congress general secretary (organization) KC Venugopal told the media that 'the party will not fall into the trap of the BJP. " That party is politicizing the event. The Congress has already made our position clear. There is no pressure on us," said Venugopal. However, the Congress leader evaded a direct question on if it would be attending the consecration ceremony. Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge also did not respond to queries.

However, striking a different note, CWC member and Congress MP Shashi Tharoor said he would not attend the inauguration and that he considers matters of faith to be personal and temples a place to "connect with the divine", rather than a stage for "political theatre".

Meanwhile, many Kerala leaders have publicly expressed their reservations about the top leaders attending the event. By declining the invitation, the ruling CPM has also scored over the Congress in Kerala.

The party's ambivalent stand on the issue has received flak from its ally Indian Union Muslim League (IUML) and other outfits that are aligned with it. The Muslim outfits have also slammed the Congress' soft Hindutva approach to garner Hindu votes in the heartland states. The West Bengal unit of the Congress is also learnt to be against the top leadership attending the event. However, leaders from Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh are keen that the party should attend the ceremony to avoid electoral fallouts. Earlier senior Congress leader Digvijay Singh said that Sonia Gandhi is positive about the invitation and she or a delegation will attend the event.

The Congress also faces pressure from its INDIA allies as parties such as TMC, JD(U), RJD and Shiv Sena (UBT) are unlikely to attend the event.

Opposition parties have slammed the BJP for turning the event into a political programme. "This is all politics, who wants to attend an event organised by the BJP? This is BJP's programme. We will visit Ayodhya after BJP's programme is over," said Sena MP Sanjay Raut.

Mamata flays BJP for playing politics on religion

Addressing a rally in North 24 Parganas on Thursday, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee lambasted the BJP for playing politics over religion. Without referring to the inauguration of Ram Mandir on January 22 in Ayodhya by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, she accused the saffron camp of playing the religion card before every election. "Following religion is an individual's affair. But a festival involves all, irrespective of their religious belief. Before every election, they (BJP) play the religion card," said Mamata.

Nitish won't quit INDIA, says his party will adopt NDA 'misrule' resolution

SHAHID FARIDI @New Delhi

THE Janata Dal (United) has no plan to quit the INDIA bloc. The party's national executive, at its meeting on Friday, plans adopt a resolution on the 'misrule' of the BJP-led NDA government.

Sources said Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, at the JD(U) office bearers' meet on Thursday, asked party leaders to ignore the 'misinformation' being spread by vested interests that he plans to leave the INDIA bloc and realign with the NDA. He said he was committed to strengthening the opposition alliance and defeating the BJP in the Lok Sabha polls.

At the party office-bearers meeting, a day before the national executive meeting in Delhi, Nitish said the party will expose the BJP's double-speak on social justice and employment creation in the political resolution to be adopted by the national executive.

Sources said the resolution will highlight the BJP's refusal to conduct a nationwide caste survey "which is preventing the backward classes from getting their due share in education and employment."

There have been reports of Nitish being miffed with the INDIA leaders for not making him the convenor of the bloc in spite of his efforts in bringing the disparate groups together.

The Bihar Chief Minister told party leaders that he had ruled out himself from the race for Prime Ministership right in the beginning of INDIA formation. He said he is not looking for any post at this stage of his career.

He also asked party leaders to pay no heed to reports on the possibility of a split in the party. He said there are no difference in the party on fighting the BJP and it will go into the next election as one unit.

Viksit Bharat mantra at 3rd meeting of chief secretaries

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi chaired the third National Conference of Chief Secretaries focused on wider deliberations on state and centre-concerning issues of sustainable developments, including strengthening the federal relationship between the two, in the national capital on Monday.

According to an official source, the key focus of the ongoing two-day conference is 'Ease of Living' while issues of land, electricity, drinking water, health and schooling are also being deliberated upon.

The chief sectaries, along with 200 Central government officials, are taking up issues which impact the country's sustainable development pushing the nation towards becoming the 'Viksit-Bharat' by 2047.

Special sessions on cyber security, which has become a serious concern and pressing matter for the nation, are also scheduled at the conference, the official added.

An official, attending this conference, preferring anonymity, said expert opinions and suggestions on the cyber security in the age of AI tops the priority of government and PM Modi wants to provide a foolproof cyber security cover to the nation.

Besides, special sessions have been schedules on aspirational block and district programmes which are being implemented across country's 110 districts as part of PM's vision to ensure equal development in each district of country.

"A special session on rationalisation of schemes and new age technologies also forms a part of the event in addition to wider deliberations on federal relationship between the Centre and state," the source said.

The conference is aimed at laying the ground for collaborative action for achieving better quality of life for both rural and urban population by strengthening the delivery mechanisms of government interventions said an official statement.

It also said that the conference is deliberating upon implementation of a common agenda and blueprint for cohesive action in partnership with the states. The special session has also been incorporated with the conference on Artificial Intelligence in Governance: Challenges and Opportunities in addition to focused deliberations on Drug- de-addiction and the Amrit-Sarovar, tourism promotion and branding and role of states.

The Pradhan Mantri Vishwakarama Yojna-recently launched with an aim to provide support to artisans and PM SVANidhi and the best practices of states are also being discussed at the meeting.

Notably, the first national conference of chief secretaries was held in Dharamshala in Himachal Pradesh in 2022, followed by the second January this year in Delhi.

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the BAPS Temple in Abu Dhabi on February 14, BAPS said in a statement.

"On behalf of BAPS Hindu Mandir in Abu Dhabi, Swami Ishwarcharandas and Swami Brahmaviharidas, along with the board of directors, extended a heartfelt invitation to Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the inauguration ceremony scheduled for February 14, 2024," the BAPS statement said.

The BAPS delegation held almost an hour-long, warm and informal meeting at the Prime Minister's residential office at 7 Lok Kalyan Marg on January 27, the statement said.

Swami Brahmaviharidas showcased the latest update of the BAPS Hindu Mandir in Abu Dhabi, emphasizing its intricate carvings and all-inclusive grandeur, saying that "the inauguration will be a great event, a millennial moment of celebration for time to come."

Before concluding the meeting, the Prime Minister shared his personal vision for greater spiritual growth and India's emergence as a global leader. "Despite his packed schedule, he spent 20 more minutes alone with the Swamis, sharing a personal bond of over 40 years," the BAPS statement added.

With pulse production down, govt extends import duty waiver till '25

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

A LOOMING crisis of pulses in the election year has prompted the government to extend the exemption in import duty on tur and black gram pulses till March 2025. A week ago, the government also exempted import duty on lentils. This will dent the image of India's ambition to become self-reliant in pulse production.

The estimated lesser production of kharif pulses and shrinking of current rabi pulses sowing acreage has led the government to control domestic prices.

Major pulses producing states are Karnataka, Gujarat, Maharashtra and Rajasthan. They have registered lesser pulses sowing areas in the current rabi sowing season.

Besides, the sowing of pulses crops in the current 2023-24 kharif season was reduced by 5.41 lakh hectares (LHa) compared to the 2022-23. A below average rainfall due to El Nino restricted the kharif acreage to 123 lakh hectares. The normal kharif pulses sowing area in the country is around 139.70 lakh hectares.

The production of kharif pulses has been stressed in the past two years. In 2022-23, the kharif pulses sowing area was reduced by around 4 per cent due to erratic rainfall in major pulses-growing areas. The tur pulses production was reduced by 15 per cent.

In the current 2023-24 kharif season, the total production of pulses is estimated at 7.1 million metric tonnes (mmt), which is lower by around 0.5 mmt than the last year and the lowest since 2016-17. The lower production of Tur led to a price increase of around 50 per cent in different mandis.

The inflation rate of pulses reached 20.23 per cent in November, which was 18.79 per cent in October 2023. Meanwhile, lesser production of pulses in the kharif season last year pushed prices to an all-time high since January 2023.

Recently, Arjun Munda, Union Minister of Agriculture and Farmer Welfare, told Parliament that India imports around 2.5 million tonnes of pulses almost every year to meet its domestic need. However, in the last six months, India has imported around 2 mmt of pulses.

The government has already taken measures to reduce the retail price of pulses like imposing stock limits and removing import duty on pulses.

Weak rate, rain to blame

Pulses producing Karnataka, Gujarat, Maharashtra and Rajasthan record less sowing area in current season

Sowing of pulses crops in 2023-24 kharif season was down by 5.41 LHa compared to 2022-23

Scanty rainfall keeps kharif acreage to 123 LHa. Normal sowing areas is 139.70 LHa

In 23-24, pulses output is estimated at 7.1 million metric tonnes, the lowest since 2016-17

'RATIONALISATION' OF NCERT TEXTBOOKS
There was much furore over deletions of several topics from NCERT Classes 6-12 textbooks. So much so that opposition parties, academicians, historians, scientists, political scientists and writers strongly condemned the "rationalisation of books".

SETTING UP & REMOVAL OF SELFIE POINTS
The UGC directive to universities and colleges to set up selfie points with PM's cutout at their campuses whipped up controversy over "politicisation of education". After severe backlash, the UGC withdrew its designs without an explanation.

Finish Line 2023

A LESSON ON 'INDIA' vs 'BHARAT'
An NCERT panel led by Padma Shri winning historian Prof C I Issac suggested that primary and higher secondary students should be taught the name 'Bharat' in textbooks and not 'India'. Education minister Dharmendra Pradhan backed it.

CENTRE vs STATES WAR OVER SYLLABI
Battle lines were drawn when some states adhered to the revisions under NEP-2020, while some didn't. The Centre finally clarified that states can adopt or adapt NCERT textbooks or develop their own curriculum.

EYEING GLOBAL ARENA

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT

IF 2023 saw the internationalisation of education with premier Indian institutes like IITs setting up campuses abroad and two Australian foreign universities setting up their campuses here, the coming year will pave the way for India to become the global provider of education — an ambitious aim set up by the National Education Policy (2020).

Though the push will continue to be on further providing Indian students access to world-class higher education and research opportunities not only outside but within the country too, the much-awaited event in the education sector that will shape the future of school-going children, and which will perhaps generate more controversy in 2024, will be the roll-out of the NCERT textbooks, revised on the lines of NEP, for Classes 6 to 12.

For school students, the road ahead could be a bit bumpy, just like when the maiden CUET was launched in 2021 without much preparation. The draft National Curriculum Framework (NCF) has proposed two board exams for Class 10 and 12 students and the scrapping of the arts, science, and humanities streams for higher secondary students for the academic session 2024-25. But there is no further word on this yet.

Though the draft NCF also gives the option to students to quit school after Class 10, pursue vocational education in grades 11 and 12 if they wish to, and design their course combination and freedom to choose across streams, so far there is no clarity from the ministry on how this will unfold next year.

What will also create some confusion would be the sudden introduction of three languages in school years.

The coming year will also see the setting up of the rest of the PM Shri schools in India. A total of 14,500 PM Shri schools or the PM Schools for Rising India for upgradation of schools are to be set up by the Centre.

This year, 6,448 schools were selected, and ₹630.11 crore has been released to 6,207 PM Shri schools in 27 states and UTs as the first instalment. It will also be seen whether states such as Bihar, Delhi, Kerala, Odisha, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal, which have not yet signed an MoU with the Centre despite many requests, will join the scheme. Punjab, after joining in, has now dropped out.

While school education will continue to hog much limelight in the coming year, just like it did this year, with controversies over the dropping of several topics and portions from NCERT textbooks, it is the higher education sector that is set to see a boom.

While the two Australian universities — Deakin University and the University of Wollongong — are all set to welcome students to their campuses from next academic year, more foreign universities have shown interest in setting up their campuses in India, especially at the Gujarat International Finance Tec-City or GIFT City in Gandhinagar, Gujarat.

Moreover, as regulations on setting up and operating campuses of foreign Higher Education Institutions in India have been issued by the University Grants Commission (UGC), India will see the entry of more top-ranking global universities setting campuses here.

Speaking to this paper, UGC chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar said, "The regulations will provide a global dimension to higher education in India and enable Indian students to obtain foreign qualifications at affordable cost. The regulations aim to make India an attractive global study destination."

"While providing global exposure to Indian students, the Indian students will also be able to study internationally relevant curricula, courses, and programmes," he added.

The other goal for the UGC next year would be to work with affiliated colleges and encourage them to become autonomous; establish more deemed-to-be universities in niche areas to further the research ecosystem of universities, and implement the national curriculum framework, which aims to transform higher education.

The year also saw a growing concern over students' death by suicide, the highest being reported from the IITs. The focus for the UGC, the Centre and states will be on redressing students' grievances, especially from the reserved category.

Next year certainly holds a lot of promise for the Indian education system as it draws closer to its vision of achieving NEP 2020 goals rooted in Indian ethos, thus making India a global knowledge superpower.

WHILE TWO AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITIES — DEAKIN UNIVERSITY AND THE UNIVERSITY OF WOLLONGONG — ARE ALL SET TO WELCOME STUDENTS TO THEIR INDIA CAMPUSES FROM NEXT YEAR, MORE FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES HAVE SHOWN INTEREST IN SETTING UP CAMPUSES IN THE COUNTRY

No Raj cabinet 25 days after victory

Insiders cite rift between RSS & Raje faction and BJP's bid to balance caste equations in state

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IT has been 25 days since the people of Rajasthan voted the BJP into power. However, the party is still struggling with putting together a ministerial team for Chief Minister Bhajan Lal Sharma.

The CM, a debutant MLA, has visited Delhi twice along with his two deputy CMs Diya Kumari and Premchand Bairwa, but has been unable to assemble a team of ministers.

While no official reason is available for the delay, BJP insiders suggest a conflict between the RSS lobby and the Vasundhara Raje faction, along with the party's quest to balance the caste equation ahead of the Lok Sabha elections have contributed to the prolonged delay in forming a council of ministers.

This delay appears more pronounced in the face of Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh completing a similar task after poll victories.

Amid ongoing discussions on cabinet formation, state party chief CP Joshi met CM Bhajanlal Sharma late on Wednesday evening. The three-hour meeting is learnt have taken up the cabinet formation.

State co-in-charge Vijaya Rahatkar and BJP leader Rajendra Rathore also attended the meeting. There is a possibility that the cabinet could be formed on Friday or Saturday, sources said.

Labour pains of cabinet expansion are nearing an end. This has been the BJP's working style. Our leadership is in the midst of completing some process. The cabinet would represent all sections of society

Rajendra Rathore, BJP leader

In a statement, Rathore made light of the task at hand. "Labour pains of cabinet expansion are nearing an end. This has been the BJP's working style. Our leadership is in the midst of completing some process," said Rathore expressing confidence that the cabinet would represent all sections of society and expanded within a few days, "maybe within a few hours."

As MLAs have been instructed to stay on in Jaipur during the cabinet formation, they have left their constituencies and are camping in the state capital.

They are also on tenterhooks about the timing of the cabinet expansion. Many MLAs are engaging in discussions, expressing their anxiety about the cabinet expansion.

Analysts say the new cabinet may include fresh faces, giving an opportunity to MLAs who have not held ministerial positions before. Since the newly appointed CM Bhajanlal is a first time MLA, the party may consider avoiding senior faces in the new ministry.

In Rajasthan, a maximum of 30 ministers, including the CM, can be appointed. The first phase may include about 20 ministers, with 10 each as cabinet and state ministers.

The remaining five-seven positions may be left vacant initially, with the option to fill them after the Lok Sabha elections.

Former CM Vasundhara Raje and party's organisation secretary Chandrashekar are already camping in Delhi.

MLAs who were once in the Vasundhara Raje camp, are clearly worried about their future. Adding to their worries are reports that the Bhajanlal team could have as many as 60-70% new faces.

Sources point to differences of opinion within the BJP over the ministerial candidate for the state home ministry as well as over pacifying the Jat community.

It is for the first time in the history of Rajasthan that a winning party has taken such a long time in forming the ministry.

Finding candidates

It is the first time in the state's history that a winning party has taken such a long time to form the ministry. Sources point to differences within the BJP over the ministerial candidate to head the state home ministry, as well as over pacifying the Jat community. Vasundhara Raje supporters, in particular, are worried as the CM is reportedly mulling making first-time MLAs as ministers. There are reports that Bhajanlal team could have as many as 60-70% new faces

Maha murmur as Uddhav seeks 23 seats in LS polls

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

DIFFERENCES have surfaced in the MVA alliance over the distribution of Lok Sabha seats for the 2024 general election.

Shiv Sena (UBT) has demanded 23 seats out of the total 48 seats in Maharashtra. Shiv Sena (UBT) Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Raut said he along with party leaders Uddhav and Aaditya Thackeray met Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge, Sonia and Rahul Gandhi in Delhi during INDIA alliance meeting and put across the demand for certain numbers of seats.

A senior Sena (UBT) leader argued that in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the party contested 23 seats and won 19. "However, we are ready to compromise, but that adjustment will not be drastic. We are firm to contest at least all our winning seats, though there is a split in the party and most MPs have joined the Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena," said an Uddhav Thackeray loyalist.

It is true every party wants a larger share of seats. However, the demand for 23 seats by Shiv Sena is quite excessive. It is not linked to the situation on the ground and political reality

Ashok Chavan,Former Maha CM and senior Congress leader

"Our vote bank is intact, therefore, we are firm on our demand," he added.

Former Maharashtra Chief Minister and senior Congress leader Ashok Chavan emphasized mutual adjustment among the alliance partners of MVA. "It is true every party wants a larger share of seats. However, the demand for 23 seats by Shiv Sena is quite excessive. It is not linked to the situation on the ground and political reality," said Chavan.

Dalit leader Prakash Ambedkar-led Vanchit Bahujan Aghadi which is trying to be a part of the MVA has posted on social media demanding 12 Lok Sabha seats while leaving 12 each to the other three – Shiv Sena, NCP and Congress.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha, VBA did not win any parliamentary seat, but its presence resulted in the defeat of 7 Congress and NCP candidates, including two ex-CMs, Ashok Chavan and Sushil Kumar Shinde.

Young IPS officer resigns to pursue life of freedom

Anand Mishra, an Indian Police Service officer and superintendent of police of Assam's Lakhimpur, put in his paper, much to the surprise of his well-wishers. Mishra, who grew up in Kolkata and is immensely popular among the youths, mentioned in his resignation letter addressed to the chief secretary that he wanted to pursue a life of freedom and independence. It was not known why he decided to resign from service but sources said that it may be because he is likely to contest next year's Lok Sabha elections from Bihar where his family originally hails from.

13 burnt alive in bus-truck collision in MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A private bus turned into a fireball after a head-on collision with a truck, burning alive 13 people and resulting in injuries to at least 16 others in Guna district of Madhya Pradesh on Wednesday night.

The bus, owned reportedly by the brother of ruling BJP leader Vishwanath Sikarwar, had expired fitness and insurance certificates and it's road tax was unpaid since 2021.

Chief Minister Mohan Yadav who rushed to Guna district and met the severely injured patients and grieving kin of the deceased at the district hospital on Thursday, announced financial assistance of ₹4 lakh each to next of kin of each of the 13 deceased and ₹50,000 each to severely injured passengers.

On the CM's order, a high-level probe was ordered into the accident, which would be conducted by a four-member panel headed by the Guna additional district collector.

The Guna RTO and the chief municipal officer were suspended with immediate effect for laxity in the matter, including delayed arrival of fire tenders.

RIGHT TO PROCREATE PART OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS, RULES DELHI HC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court has said that the right to life includes a convict's right to procreate, while allowing a 41-year-old murderer a four-week parole so that he can have a child with his wife with certain medical help.

Justice Swarana Kanta Sharma in the order said the right to life under Article 21 of the Constitution will include the right of a convict to have a child when he is not blessed with a biological child.

"Thereby this court has no hesitation in granting the convict parole for the purpose where he needs medical assistance and the biological clock due to his age may weaken and make prospects of having a child bleak," according to the order.

"A convict does not become a lesser citizen due to his incarceration. The fundamental right to have a child cannot be deemed to be surrendered in favour of the State. Delay in having a biological child would mean curtailing this fundamental right to parenthood, due to incarceration of a convict. The right to parenthood and procreation is a fundamental right of a convict in peculiar circumstances of a case," the Delhi HC said.

It also made it clear that the right to procreate, survives despite incarceration, in a particular set of facts and circumstances of a given case, as the present one.

The court ordered that the petitioner be released on parole for a period of four weeks after he furnishes a personal bail bond of ₹20,000 and one surety of like amount and fulfils some other conditions.

PETITIONER IN JAIL FOR LAST 14 YRS

The court said the petitioner has been in prison for the last 14 years and sought parole on the ground that he and his wife wanted to protect their lineage, for which he would have to under-go medical test

Union min: India exporting power, but importing technology a concern

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

UNION Minister of Power and New and Renewable Energy R K Singh on Thursday said that while India is exporting power, it is importing technology for power generation and storage.

He said there is a need to increase scientific temperament and manufacturing capacity in India. Industries from the world over are coming and patenting their products here, but we don't see any of those in India. He wondered what was lagging and said there was no need for ground breaking inventions, but improvement of existing technology will help. The government is here to fund research and development.

Speaking at IISc, on the sidelines of unveiling of the foundation stone of the inter-disciplinary centre for energy research building, Singh said: "Mechanism and rules have been put up for Made In India items, but domestic capacity is very poor. So import is happening. I assure you whatever you make will be consumed. There is also lack of synergy between industry and scientists. They are not working together. The banking sector has also failed.

Union Minister R K Singh with Karnataka Energy Minister KJ George during the inauguration the inauguration of power grid Vishram Sadan at NIMHANS in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

In the West and other countries, banks fund and support patents, but here they are not interested in the country's development. That is where we are failing," he said.

Singh added that green hydrogen is not new. Already, 7.8 million tonnes capacity works are ongoing at various stages. India has emerged as the biggest manufacturer of green hydrogen in the world. However, there is a need to focus on research and subjects that will work on large scale manufacturing.

He pointed out that while thrust is laid on renewable energy, there is little progress on storage and battery. Solar power is generated at Rs 2.40 per unit per hour, but storage costs Rs 10 per unit per hour, so it does not work. Work on better technologies is going on and Made in India items need to be manufactured in bulk and patented.

Singh said: "India today is not what it was 20 years ago. We achieved the COP21 target of 40% use of renewabale energy by the year 2021. The demand for power is increasing at the rate of 10% per annum and this is because of the economy. India has added 19000MW capacity in the last nine years and we are exporting power."

Later in the day, Singh participated in the inauguration of the power grid Vishram Sadan at Nimhans, with Nimhans Director Dr Prathima Murthy.

Bhojpatra forest faces existential threat

The 2012 flood in the Yamuna caused major damage to the forest due to erosion. The Bhojpatra trees were affected. Unfortunately, no concrete plan has been established yet

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE 'Bhojpatra' (birch leaf) forests in Uttarakhand are currently under threat and facing potential extinction due to erosion caused by the Yamuna river. Expressing concern, nature conservationists and experts in mythological fields have urged the government to prepare a comprehensive action plan for the conservation of these birch leaf trees, which are at risk due to increasing anthropogenic activities and pollution.

Ranganath Pandey, the deputy director of Gangotri National Park, said in an interview with this newspaper, "There is a large birch forest in an area of 1,000 hectares within the park boundaries. Not only birch, but all plant species have been affected by increasing human activities."

Pandit Pradeep Lakhera, a renowned astrologer of Gauchar, Chamoli, told this newspaper, "Ved Vyas also composed the Purana on these Bhojpatras. 18 Puranas, Mahabharata and four Vedas are written on Bhoj letters, it is considered to be part of Mother Saraswati".

As per the forest department, "The 2012 flood of the Yamuna river caused significant damage to the forest due to erosion. The Bhojpatra trees along the Hanuman Chatti Dodital track route were also affected. Unfortunately, no concrete plan has been established for the preservation and enhancement of birch leaf forests despite these challenges."

Arvind Singh Rawat, Pawan Uniyal, Naresh Panwar, Alok Uniyal, and Lokesh Chauhan from the region say, "The forests of the Bhojpatra have suffered significant damage due to disasters and land encroachment in the high Himalayan regions, but there has been no plan for their conservation. They have demanded the government to create a plan for the protection of the Bhojpatra forests."

Purushottam Uniyal, President of the Purohit Assembly of Yamunotri Dham, stated, "Serious efforts are needed to preserve this natural heritage. These trees hold great significance in our ancient religion, and are also known as 'Deva Vriksha'." S P Gairola, the Range Officer of the Yamunotri Range, told, "A ten-year action plan is currently being developed to identify and designate such locations".

It may be recalled, "In the 103rd edition of 'Mann ki Baat,' PM Narendra Modi highlighted the success of 'bhojpatra calligraphy' business run by women in Mana village near Badrinath. This village is the last village before the India-China border in Uttarakhand."

Green Bodoland Mission resolution cleared

Features of mission

The 'Green Bodoland Mission-Reclaiming the Climate for a Resilient and Sustainable Future in BTR' resolution was passed during the one-day Winter Session of the legislative assembly. The features include planting over one crore trees in 2,000 hectares of land in two years, plastic pollution reduction

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

THE autonomous Bodoland Territorial Council (BTC) on Thursday passed a resolution for "Green Bodoland Mission".

The idea is to reclaim the lost forest cover in the Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) which straddles five districts of western and northern Assam.

The "Green Bodoland Mission-Reclaiming the Climate for a Resilient and Sustainable Future in BTR" resolution was passed during the one-day Winter Session of the council's legislative assembly. The House also passed the "Child Friendly and Child Labour Free Bodoland" resolution.

BTC chief Pramod Boro, who moved the resolutions, explained the need for environmentally-sustainable development in line with the best practices and principles to ensure a green planet.

The main features of Green Bodoland Mission include plantation of over one crore trees in 2,000 hectares of land in two years, plastic pollution reduction vis-a-vis single-use plastic ban, sustainable groundwater management for a resilient future.

Two per cent of budget has been allocated towards the Green Bodoland Mission.

Boro said the BTC is committed to taking all steps necessary to achieve a child labour-free, child marriage-free and child exploitation and child trafficking-free BTR.

The council will set aside one per cent of its budget for the attainment of child rights.

The BTC chief also said that in partial fulfilment of the Bodo Peace Accord of 2020, the services of 259 teaching and non-teaching staff of ten venture degree colleges in BTR had been provincialised.

He said advertisements for filling up 1,216 posts of elementary teachers would be published soon to address the shortage of teachers in elementary schools.

Peace returned to BJP and United People's Party Liberal-ruled BTR in the aftermath of the peace accord signed among Centre, Assam government and some Bodo organisations, including insurgent groups.

The BTC will lay the foundation stone for the first of its kind "International School of Peace and Happiness" in January. It will be established in Chirang district and run by an organisation.

Over the past few decades, BTR has witnessed some violent and bloody ethnic and communal riots which has claimed the lives of hundreds of people of the state.

The region has been also ravaged by insurgency.

Refugees forced to flee as Israeli strikes kill dozens

WHO calls for urgent steps to protect Gaza's people from hunger & injuries

DEIR AL-BALAH

Palestinians mourn their relatives killed in the Israeli bombing of the Gaza Strip in Deir al Balah on Thursday | AP

ISRAELI forces bombarded cities, towns and refugee camps across Gaza overnight and into Thursday, killing dozens of people in a widening air and ground offensive against Hamas that has forced thousands more to flee from homes and shelters in recent days.

The United States—while providing crucial support for the offensive—has urged Israel to take greater measures to spare civilians and allow in more aid. But volunteers say the amount of food, fuel and medical supplies entering is far below what is needed, and 1 in 4 Palestinians in Gaza are starving, as per UN officials.

An Israeli airstrike on a home in the northern town of Beit Lahiyeh buried at least 21 people, including women and children. Bassel Kheir al-Din, a journalist with a local TV station, said the strike flattened his family house and severely damaged three neighbouring homes. He said 12 members of his family—including three children aged 2, 7 and 8—were presumed dead, and that nine neighbours were missing.

A hospital in the nearby town of Deir al-Balah received the bodies of 25 people killed overnight, including five children and seven women, hospital records showed on Thursday.

Meanwhile, WHO chief Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus called for "urgent steps to alleviate the grave peril" facing Gaza's people, including "terrible injuries, acute hunger and... severe risk of disease."

A UN report on Thursday said the human rights situation in the West Bank was rapidly deteriorating and urged Israel to "end unlawful killings" against Palestinians.

"The use of military tactics and weapons in law enforcement contexts, the use of unnecessary or disproportionate force, and the enforcement of broad, arbitrary and discriminatory movement restrictions that affect Palestinians are extremely troubling," UN rights chief Volker Turk said.

French President Emmanuel Macron in a call with Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu voiced his "deepest concern at the very heavy civilian toll" and stressed "the need to work towards a lasting ceasefire," Macron's office said. Agencies

China irked by Indian naval ship's drills with Philippines navy

Beijing: Peeved over the recent naval exercises between the navies of India and the Philippines in the disputed South China Sea, the Chinese military on Thursday said defence cooperation between different countries should not harm the interests of third countries. Answering a question from Chinese official media about naval exercises between an Indian naval ship and the Philippines naval vessel besides plans by France to hold naval and air drills with the Philippine Navy, Spokesman of the Chinese Defence Ministry Senior Col Wu Qian said China has taken note of the reports. China has always emphasised that defence and security cooperation between relevant countries must not harm the interests of third parties or hurt regional peace and stability, he said.

Zomato receives GST demand notice of ₹402 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ZOMATO LTD, the food delivery platform, has received a tax notice of ₹402 crore for not paying taxes on delivery charges collected from customers on behalf of delivery partners from October 29, 2019 to March 31, 2022.

The company in a regulatory filing said that the notice was served on December 26 by the Pune Zonal Unit of the Directorate General of GST Intelligence. The notice has been issued under Section 74(1) of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017. Zomato, however, has responded by stating that it is not liable for paying any tax as the delivery charges were collected by the company on behalf of the delivery partners, who provided services directly to the customers.

Zomato said it has sought opinions from external legal and tax advisors, who support the company's stance on the matter. "Zomato intends to submit an appropriate response to the show cause notice. It's important to note that no order has been issued against the company at this stage. The company believes it has a strong case on merit," it said. Tax experts differ with the tax department on the GST demand on delivery charges collected on behalf of the delivery partners. Nitin Jain, partner at SW India, says the delivery fee is for an independent service to the customer and hence the revenue of service providers but not of the platform.

"Since most of these gig workers are likely to be out of the tax net, this could be an indirect attempt to recover taxes by the GST department. In case, the government wants to collect tax on these charges, they should amend law prospectively to fasten the liability on e-commerce platforms like what has been done in the case of passenger transport services or restaurant services," said Jain.

In addition, ICICI Bank and Kotak Mahindra Bank have also disclosed that they received demand notices from the GST Department. ICICI Bank stated that it received a notice from the Tamil Nadu Goods and Services Tax Department, demanding ₹24.37 crore with a penalty of ₹2.43 crore. The notice is based on an assessment of tax payment under Section 73 of the Tamil Nadu Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017. ICICI Bank has promptly announced its plan to appeal against the order.

On the same day, Kotak Mahindra Bank faced show-cause cum demand orders from the assistant commissioner of central goods and service tax (GST) and excise in Cuttack, Odisha.

Banks capable of absorbing shocks: RBI

Report shows asset quality of banking system well-placed; NPAs fall for all banks, except small finance banks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Thursday said scheduled commercial banks are well capitalised and are capable of absorbing macroeconomic shocks even in absence of any further capital infusion.

The central bank in its Financial Stability Report released on Thursday also showed that the Indian banking system is comfortably placed as far as asset quality is concerned. The report says under the baseline scenario, aggregate minimum capital requirement ratio of 46 major banks likely to drop from 16.6% in September 2023 to 14.8% by September 2024.

"It may go down to 13.5% in the medium stress scenario and to 12.2% under the severe stress scenario by September 2024, which would also remain above the minimum capital requirements," said the report.

The report reiterated that no banks would breach the minimum capital requirement of 9% in the next one year. On asset quality, it shows gross non-performing assets (GNPA) of banks would go up to a level of 5.1% under severe stress condition. As per the report, under the baseline scenario, the GNPA ratio of all banks may improve to 3.1% by September 2024 from current level of 3.2%. Under medium stress scenario, the ratio may rise to 3.6%.

"At the bank group level, GNPA ratios of public sector banks may swell from 4.4% in September 2023 to 5.1% in September 2024, whereas it may go up from 2.1% to 3.6% for domestic private banks and from 1.6% to 1.8% for foreign banks under the severe stress scenario."

The RBI in its banking trend report for 2022-23 released on Wednesday said banks' asset quality has improved to a decadal high by the end of September 2023 quarter. As per the report, amount of NPAs fell for all bank groups, except small finance banks.

Financial Stability report says the improvement in banks' asset quality has been broad-based. The GNPA of the agriculture sector remains high at 7%, while asset quality in the personal loans segment has improved at an overall level even if there has been a marginal impairment in credit card receivables. The share of large borrowers (with total exposure of ₹5 crore and above) in total advances declined to 44.5% at end-September 2023 from 47.8% at the end of March 2022.

NEW DELHI: The RBI on Thursday said SBI, HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank are Domestic Systemically Important Banks (D-SIBs), which are 'too big to fail'. The D-SIB Framework requires the RBI to disclose names of banks designated as D-SIBs every year, starting from August 2015. ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BANKING FRAUD

FM to meet PSB officials on December 30

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will hold a meeting with heads of public sector banks, including State Bank of India (SBI), in the national capital on Saturday (Dec 30) to address issues related to frauds and wilful defaulters in banks, cybersecurity and bad bank performance.

This will be the third interaction between the FM and state-owned banks in 2023, with previous meetings held in March and July.

As per the RBI's recent report on Trends and Progress of Banking in India, card and internet-related frauds have seen a significant rise of over five times in the first half of FY24 as against the same period last year. Though the overall amount and types of fraud reported have decreased, the number of fraud transactions has risen to 12,069, involving ₹630 crore, during April-September of FY24. While the number of total bank frauds reported has declined from ₹17,685 crore in H1FY23 to ₹2,642 crore in H1FY24, the issue of wilful defaulters remains a concern. As of March 31, 2023, there were 2,623 unique borrowers classified as wilful defaulters, with a combined outstanding amount of ₹1.96 trillion held by scheduled commercial banks. The review will also include an assessment of the progress made by the bad bank.

Housing sales at new high in CY23 despite rise in prices, interest rates

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

RESIDENTIAL housing market in the country scaled new highs in the calendar year 2023 despite an average increase in property prices by 15% and a sharp jump in home loan interest rates during the first half of the year.

As per the latest data shared by real estate consultant Anarock, housing sales in top seven cities- Mumbai, Delhi NCR, Bengaluru, Chennai, Pune, Kolkata and Hyderabad - stood at 4,76,530 units as against 3,64,870 units in 2022– rising by 31% Y-o-Y. The last peak in the housing market was seen in 2022, after 2014, when approximately 3.43 lakh units were sold in the top seven cities.

Two western cities– Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) and Pune – dominated the real estate market in 2023. MMR witnessed the highest sales of 1,53,870 units (up 40% YoY) in 2023, followed by Pune with approx 86,680 units (up 52%).

The National Capital Region (NCR) registered the slowest growth (at 3%) among major cities as it recorded sales of 65,625 units in 2023. Housing sales in Bengaluru grew by 29% to 63,980 units, in Hyderabad by 30% to 61,715 units, in Kolkata by 9% to 23,030 units and in Chennai by 34% to 21,630 units. "While housing price hikes over the year did give rise to demand concerns, the unchanged home loan rates helped keep sales on an even keel," said Anuj Puri, Chairman - ANAROCK Group.

"The Indian economy remains bullish, and this directly correlates to residential demand. And, equally importantly, new supply is dominated by Grade A developers who are completing their projects on time. This is a strong housing demand bulwark," added Puri.

Anarock said demand will likely remain undeterred in 2024, even with average prices likely to appreciate by 8-10% across the top 7 cities. On annual basis, housing prices rose between 10-24% across top seven cities in 2023, primarily due to increased input costs and strong demand. Hyderabad recorded the highest yearly jump of 24%.

Binance, 8 others get GST show cause notice for not adhering to PMLA norms

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

OFFSHORE virtual digital assets service providers (VDA SPs) Binance, Kucoin, Bittrex and five others have received compliance show cause notices from Financial Intelligence Unit India (FIU IND) for not complying with the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PML) Act in India.

FIU IND has also written to the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology to block URLs of the nine entities operating illegally. VDA SPs were brought into the ambit of the Anti Money Laundering/ Counter Financing of Terrorism (AML-CFT) framework under the provisions of the PML Act, 2002 in March 2023.

Earlier in the first week of December, finance ministry said offshore crypto exchanges operating in the Indian market have to be registered with the FIU as reporting entities. Till date 31 VDA SPs have registered with FIU IND. "However, several offshore entities catering to a substantial part of Indian users were not getting registered and coming under the AML and CFT framework," the ministry said in a statement.

Foxconn to invest $55 mn via Singapore subsidiary

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TAIWANESE electronics manufacturing major Foxconn will invest $55.29 million in Bengaluru-based Foxconn Precision Engineering Private Limited.

The company, in an exchange filing in Taiwan, said the investment will be made via its Singapore-based subsidiary Foxconn Singapore Pte Limited. "Foxconn Singapore has acquired about 46,08,76,736 shares at ₹10 each, amounting to nearly $55.29 million (₹460.87 crore)," said the company.

Earlier this year, the Taiwanese tech giant signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with the Karnataka government to invest in the state. In this agreement, the company committed to investing in a mobile manufacturing unit, which would create employment opportunities for 50,000 people in the state in next 10 years. Production at the plant is scheduled to commence by April next year, with investments spread over three phases.

Foxconn likely to invest ₹3,000 crore in phase 1 (2023-2024), followed by ₹4,000 crore in phase 2 (2025-26), and ₹1,000 crore in phase 3 (2026-27). The manufacturing targets include 1 lakh units of iPhones by December 2025, 50 lakh units by December 2026, 1 crore by December 2027, and 2 crore by December 2028. This move is part of the its 'China plus one' strategy to diversify production away from China. Foxconn is one of the primary suppliers of iPhone components, along with Pegatron and Tata Electronics in India.

FUNDING WINTER

Start-ups see 16K layoffs, $8bn funding, 2 unicorns in 2023

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

INDIAN start-up ecosystem faced multiple challenges including funding winter and layoffs in 2023 amid a tough macroeconomic environment.

As per data sourced from Tracxn, start-ups managed to raise only $8.1 billion compared to nearly $25.2 billion in 2022. However, in December alone, start-ups managed to raise close to $860 million. Only two start-ups, Zepto and InCred, turned unicorns this year as against 24 in 2022 and 43 in 2021.

Sanjoy Paul, program director, technology at Hero Vired, said, "In 2023, the global start-up ecosystem faced unprecedented challenges as funding reached an all-time low. Diverse regions grappled with distinct issues, leading to constraints on fund availability and rollout. The downturn in financial support significantly impacted entrepreneurial ventures worldwide. Despite a sharp fall in funding, India ranked as the fourth-highest funded nation globally in 2023."

Also, this year saw over 16,000 layoffs in India, with Byju's laying off over 3,500 employees and Paytm firing 1,000 employees. Somdutta Singh, Serial Entrepreneur, founder and CEO Assiduus Global, said start-up funding in India has reached its lowest point in five years, emphasising need for strategic pivoting and a renewed focus on resilience, sustainability, and operational efficiency.

Seed-stage funding has experienced a major downturn, falling 60% to $678 million in 2023, as against $1.7 billion during the same period in 2022. "This calls for a shift in approach for companies, urging them to optimise cloud resources for cost-effectiveness and adopt leaner models," he said. As an investor, he added that the prevailing sentiment among investors or VCs underscores a shift from prioritising unchecked growth to emphasising operational cash flows, aligning with a cloud-centric strategy that emphasises scalable solutions to alleviate financial pressures.

Ashish Sharma, Managing Partner, InnoVen Capital, said, the funding environment has been weak over last 18 months,and it is expected that it will remain sluggish as we get into 2024.

"Only after we start seeing a reversal in some of the macro headwinds, like global inflation coming down and US Fed lowering interest rates as well as an improved geopolitical situation, can one expect a gradual improvement in the funding environment. From an Indian standpoint, we also need to keep an eye on the general elections as well as the state of the overall economy," he added.

START-UP LANDSCAPE IN 2023

ONLY 2 start-ups turned unicorns in 2023 vs 24 in 2022

IN 2023 start-up funding was only $8.1 billion compared to $25.2 billion in 2022

AS PER TRACXN REPORT, IN DECEMBER ALONE, START-UPS RAISED $859.9 MN

Seed-stage funding fell by 60% to $678 million in 2023 as against $1.7 bn in 2022

With $1.9 bn funding, retail sector witnessed a 67% drop in funding in 2023

Man United set to enter a new Ratcliffe era

Fans of Manchester United know 2024 will be anything but boring as the club tries once again to end a period of on-field decline that has lasted 10 years for the record 20-time English league champions. British billionaire Jim Ratcliffe agreed Sunday ' Christmas Eve ' to buy a minority stake in United.

SAUDI OUT-RICH PROGRAMME

Finish Lille 2023

With the middle-eastern country making its presence felt across multiple sporting disciplines, Vishnu Prasad takes a look how it all happened, the history and complexity of sportswashing, and what lies ahead...

IN 2023, world football was punctuated by two developments at either end of the calendar, and they confirmed an already visible shift away from status quo.

The first came just a couple of days after the new year had dawned. Cristiano Ronaldo, either the world's most famous or second-most famous — depending on where your allegiances lie — footballer stood waving to fans, not on the hallowed turf of the Santiago Bernabeu or the Juventus Stadium, but in the little-known Mrsool Park (since rebranded the Al-Awwal Park) in Saudi Arabian capital of Riyadh. Before Ronaldo set foot inside it, the stadium's biggest claim to fame was probably hosting a couple of WWE events. It was still being built when Ronaldo won the third of his five Ballon d'Ors in 2014 and had about a third of the capacity of Old Trafford, the ground he previously called home. Yet here was one of the greatest footballers of the modern era, clad in Al-Nassr's yellow shirt, waving happily to his new fans.

The second was actually a series of smaller developments that happened throughout the month of October that tied into one larger endgame, not unlike how a series of bizarre clues often come together to make perfect sense at the end in a Hercule Poirot novel. On October 11, a FIFA Council Meeting chaired by its president Gianni Infantino confirmed that the 2030 World Cup would be hosted not by three countries, but by three continents — Portugal and Spain from Europe, as well as Morocco from Africa would host the bulk of the matches while Uruguay, Argentina and Paraguay from South America would stage a game each. The decision to take the tournament to South America for just three nights was explained away as a nod to Uruguay hosting the first-ever World Cup a century ago in 1930.

However, a more plausible explanation came when the same council meeting quietly confirmed that only countries from Asia or Oceania would be able to bid for the 2034 World Cup due to its rotational policy. North America had it in 2026 and now every other continent had been shoehorned into the 2030 schedule, clearly to make things easier for an Asian bid.

Then, on October 31, with just hours left for the meagre 27-day period that FIFA had allowed for bids to be submitted, Australia announced that it would not be bidding to host the tournament. That left Saudi Arabia as the only bidder and rendered a vote on the matter irrelevant. A day later, Infantino confirmed what everybody already knew via a social media post. "Three editions, five continents and ten countries involved in staging matches in the tournament — that's making football truly global!," he patted himself on the back. He would, no doubt, have received more pats on the back when he flew to Saudi for the Club World Cup in December.

It is no coincidence that the football calendar began and ended in Saudi Arabia. Over the last few years, the desert kingdom has been quite unsubtle in its efforts to dominate world sport. In 2012, the Public Investment Fund (PIF), the sovereign wealth fund of Saudi Arabia, bought English football club Newcastle United. Apart from hosting a Formula One race, Saudi sponsors a number of teams through their various brands. Saudi Arabia has been the host to several leading professional boxing events in recent years, including Oleksandr Usyk's win over Anthony Joshua in 2022. And in 2022, the PIF funded the inaugural season of the LIV Golf Invitational Series, a rebel tour that managed to attract top golfing talent away from the PGA Tour.

In 2023 though, these efforts ascended to a whole other level.

The flow of footballing talent to the desert sands of the Arabian peninsula continued over the course of the year. Names to make the move included Neymar, Karim Benzema, N'Golo Kante, Roberto Firmino and Sadio Mane. While leagues and clubs in China and Russia have tempted players with petro-dollars before, this was an exodus that was unprecedented. Serbia's Sergej Milinkovic-Savic, for example, is a player at the peak of his prowess at 28 and was sought by some of the biggest clubs in the world just the season prior. Aymeric Laporte, one year older, was coming straight off winning the English Premier League with Manchester City and being described as one of the best defenders in the league.

It was not just players that the Saudis managed to attract. Among the tournaments that they brought to their shores in 2023 — apart from the 2034 World Cup — are the FIFA Club World Cup and the Italian Super Cup. Football, though, was just one of the many cogs in the machine. The Saudis won one of the biggest sport victories in golf when it was announced in June 2023 that the rebel LIV Golf funded by them would merge with the mainstream PGA Tour. This was significant for the mainstream golfing world's initial reaction to LIV Golf was to threaten participating golfers with all kinds of sanctions. The move to pool resources with them was a tacit admission that they were powerless to resist the winds of change.

"It is an exciting day," said PGA Tour Commissioner Jay Monahan when the merger was announced. "To be able to take an aggressive competitor over the last two years and have that entity be a productive minority investor and for us to all be aligned, is very exciting." This was quite the change of tune from a man who had earlier said that golfers leaving for the LIV Tour would have to apologise to American society, a not-so-subtle hint at the Saudi role in 9/11.

Other sports too queued up to be funded by Riyadh's oil money. ATP announced that the season-ending Next Gen Finals for men's under-21 tennis players will be held in Jeddah from 2023 to 2027. In November, the world of boxing awoke to news that Tyson Fury and Oleksandr Usyk will fight for the undisputed heavyweight championship of the world in Riyadh in February 2024. Then, at the end of year, came the big news that Saudi Arabia was looking to purchase a sizable stake in the Indian Premier League to the tune of $30 billion.

Of course, Saudi Arabia is not the first political entity to attempt such a strategy nor will they be the last. Regardless of the outrage the last few years have generated, mainly among Western observers, the use of sports to achieve political ends is neither new nor rare. The concept of soft power, first introduced by Joseph Nye in the 1990s, has been one that has found increasing relevance in international politics in recent times. "Soft power is the ability to affect others to obtain the outcome one wants through attraction rather than coercion," Nye wrote in one of his papers on the topic.

And sports has been used as a tool to obtain soft power since time immemorial. Wars were fought in ancient Greece to wrest control of the sanctuary at Olympia and gain the right to organise the Olympic Games. State-sponsored gladiatorial contests were a regular feature in the Roman empire, held to celebrate kings and victories. A lot closer to the present, there is Nazi Germany hosting the Berlin Olympics in 1934, Fascist Italy hosting the 1938 FIFA World Cup, the communist and capitalist Olympics Games of 1980 and 1984, hosted respectively by the USSR and the USA.

These days, the term being bandied around to describe this phenomenon is sportswashing. That term brings with it a moral connotation and became mainstream usage when Russia and Qatar won the rights to host the 2018 and 2022 World Cup, respectively. And once again, it is being bandied around with Saudi Arabia — a country where a laundry list of human rights abuses have been committed in recent times.

While acknowledging this reality, it has to be noted that outrage for the moral gatekeepers of this world is often selective. Sportswashing was not a term used when London was selected as the host of the 2012 Olympics in 2005, or when David Beckham moved to LA Galaxy in 2007, both developments coming at a time when armies of the US and UK were jointly bombing civilians in Iraq and Afghanistan. And there were only the rare voices of outrage when the 1978 World Cup was hosted by a US-sponsored military junta in Argentina, in stadiums still riddled with bullet holes from mass civilian executions. Of course, values often only come in handy when convenient. English footballer Jordan Henderson, who was quite loud in expressing concern over the LGBTQ rights situation in Qatar before the World Cup, now captains Al-Ettifaq in the Saudi Pro League.

For Saudi Arabia, neither moral conundrums, nor labels stuck on to it by Western media, will matter. Their immediate objective is to project themselves as the leader of the Islamic world, a picture of stability and prosperity in a region that has historically struggled to sustain both. And over the long term, they would hope to diversify their economy and lessen the dependence on fossil fuel.

Controlling world sports is one of the many ways of achieving those twin objectives. Saudi's crown prince and de-facto ruler Prince Mohammed bin Salman said as much when confronted with allegations of sportswashing. "If sportswashing is going to increase my GDP by one percent, then we'll continue doing sportswashing," he told Fox News.

And if 2023 was the year when the Arabian peninsula became an undeniable presence in world sports, the next couple of years might just be when it becomes its undisputed capital.

Manchester City rally for 3-1 win at Everton

AGENCIES @ London

TRAILING 1-0 to Everton at halftime, Manchester City didn't much look like the newly crowned Club World Cup champion despite the new golden FIFA badge on the front of the players' shirts. But Pep Guardiola had a simple message to his players at the break.

"The manager (told us) at halftime to just keep believing, we haven't got this badge for no reason," City midfielder Phil Foden said. "In the second half, yeah, wow, I think we blew them away with the way we played."

Foden started the comeback by equalizing in the 53rd minute, before Julian Alvarez's penalty and a late goal by Bernardo Silva secured a 3-1 win at Everton to put the defending champions back into the Premier League's top four. "That's why we're the world champions. The best team in the world," Guardiola said with a smile in a post-game interview on Amazon Prime. "Now I'm going to remind them every day. We have a standard to keep."

Rare home win for Chelsea

League victories at Stamford Bridge have been hard to come by for Chelsea in 2023. But their last home game of the year ended in a 2-1 win over Crystal Palace after substitute Noni Madueke converted a late penalty for the hosts. It was just Chelsea's sixth home league win of the calendar year, and Mauricio Pochettino's team once again struggled to turn possession into goals for much of the game.

Meanwhile, Brentford might need to start worrying about a relegation scrap. Thomas Frank's team fell to a sixth loss in seven games after making a couple of defensive howlers in a 4-1 home defeat against Wolverhampton. South Korea forward Hwang Hee-chan scored twice as Wolves took full advantage of Brentford's mistakes, including one that came straight after the kickoff following the visitors' opening goal.

Meek surrender as Proteas go 1-0 up

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN India arrived in South Africa more than ten days ago, the two-match Test series was considered to be their best chance to create history. They had the experience of Virat Kohli, Rohit Sharma, and KL Rahul and promising youngsters in the squad. Even when Mohammed Shami was ruled out, the confidence was still there with Jasprit Bumrah leading the pack. "We have been working so hard, it's time we get some big results," said captain Sharma, filled with dreams of etching his name in history books.

However, in about 200 overs since taking the field on Tuesday, that dream evaporated at the SuperSport Park, Centurion when Kagiso Rabada dived to his left to catch Kohli. Another tour to South Africa and another opportunity missed as the hosts go into New Year and Cape Town 1-0 up. While the loss itself should hurt, what makes it worse is the manner in which India played, and the margin of defeat — an innings and 32 runs in less than three days. And the hosts did so without the services of their captain — Temba Bavuma who got injured on Day One.

SCOREBOARD

India 1st innings: 245; South Africa 1st innings (O/n 256/5): Elgar c Rahul b Thakur 185, Jansen not out 84, Coetzee c Siiajb Ashwin 19, Rabada b Bumrah 1, Burger b Bumrah 0, Bavuma absent hurt; Extras: (LB-13, NB-9, W-2) 24; Total: (All out in 108.4 ovs) 408; FoW: 6-360, 7-391, 8-392, 9-408; Bowling: Bumrah 26.4-5-69-4, Siraj 24-1-91-2, Thakur 19-2-101-1, Krishna 20-2-93-1, Ashwin 19-6-41-1. India 2nd innings: Jaiswal c Verreynne b Burger 5, Sharma b Rabada 0, Gill b Jansen 26, Kohli c Rabada b Jansen 76, Iyer b Jansen 6, Rahul c Markram b Burger 4, Ashwin c Bedingham b Burger 0, Thakur c Bedingham b Rabada 2, Bumrah run out 0, Siraj c Verreynne b Burger 4, Krishna not out 0; Extras: (LB-2, W-6) 8; Total: (All out in 34.1 ovs) 131; FoW: 1-5, 2-13, 3-52, 4-72, 5-96, 6-96, 7-105, 8-113, 9-121; Bowling: Rabada 12-3-32-2, Burger 10-3-33-4, Jansen 7.1-1-36-3, Coetzee 5-0-28-0.

However, India's second innings, which began in the second session of Day Three, lasted just about three hours with nine of the playing XI getting out in single digits. While the Proteas pace attack did know the conditions better and made the most of it with Rabada and Nandre Burger taking seven wickets in the match — what did not help the visitors was the lack of application and discipline from the batters. Yashasvi Jaiswal could not keep his hands down, Sharma did not cover the line, Shubman Gill played all over it, so did Shreyas Iyer. R Ashwin pushed at an away delivery on the very first ball to be caught at gully, Bumrah's run out made one pull out the hair and at that point, the game was all but over. The only positives they could take from the match were Rahul's century in the first innings and the way Kohli batted in the second.

While one could argue that some of the batters are playing a Test in South Africa for the first time, the bigger concern for India would be the lack of regular wickets from the pace attack. Over the past four years, India had built a reputation for one of the best bowling attacks in the world — with Bumrah, Shami, first Ishant Sharma and now Mohammed Siraj, R Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja — but it has not been the same in the recent past. Even the last time they toured, India could not take 20 wickets and let SA chase twice. This time, the absence of Shami apart, what also cost them was the on-field tactics or the lack of it. While Sharma has had his share of success in white-ball cricket, this Test is only his third away from home, first against an opponent that isn't West Indies. And it showed.

With the match ending earlier, India have an extra couple of days to regroup and work things out before they turn up at Cape Town — a venue where they are yet to win a Test — and make a difference.

Vastrakar, Rodrigues and the promise of India's batting depth in ODIs

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

THE first time Pooja Vastrakar batted on Indian soil in ODIs, she was slated to bat at nine against Australia in 2018. With India sitting at 113 for seven, there were not a lot of expectations from the then 19-year-old, but she put up a brave fightback and scored her maiden half-century. A delightful knock took India past 200 in Vadodara, even though it was never going to be enough against the Australians. At that time, Vastrakar's knock came on the back of a collapse where India continued to lose wickets at regular intervals.

Almost five years and a World Cup cycle later, Vastrakar did the same, batting in the same position, against the same opposition. However, this time the surroundings were different. At the Wankhede Stadium, batting without their vice-captain, Smriti Mandhana, India went on to score their highest score (282/2) against Australia in the format.

When Vastrakar walked in, India had lost two quick wickets and Jemimah Rodrigues was struggling physically to get through her innings. The Madhya Pradesh all-rounder went to do what she was supposed to. She went after Megan Schutt to bring India's 200. It also gave a breather to Rodrigues before both of them went on a counterattack. The pair helped hosts add 82 runs in the final ten overs.

Rodrigues and Vastrakar had always possessed the talent and ability to bat the way they batted but in the first ODI, there was no collapse around them. Rodrigues came into bat after a solid foundation laid by Yastika Bhatia. The Mumbai local could play her shots and bat her way because there was no responsibility to keep the inning floating. India's batting, even without Mandhana, lasted till nine with three left-handers in the playing XI.

For a team that has struggled with their batting depth and have been susceptible to a collapse, systematically making use of their resources is a major box ticked going forward. Whenever, in the past, they have scored a challenging total batting first, the majority of the contribution has come from the top-order and the middle-order had just hung up enough to make a statement. In the progression of the innings, it looked like there was some intent with every batter who walked in. What made this batting approach even more remarkable was the amount of runs that came after the fall of the top four. While the top four collectively contributed just 91 runs, including single-digit scores from Shafali Verma and captain Harmanpreet Kaur, the middle-order poured in 191 runs, which was a rare sight.

Will this work every time? It may not. Will that solve the age-old problem of collapse? It's too early to say. box is ticked. The result might not have gone their way in Mumbai, but there are many positives to take from it. Brief scores: India 282/ 8 in 50 ovs (Rodrigues 82, Vastrakar 62 n.o; Wareham 2/55) lost to Australia 285/4 in 46.3 ovs (Perry 75, Litchfield 78; Renuka 1/30).
